Citizens groups give board a busy evening

Hearings were given six citizens' groups Monday evening by Arlington Heights village board. The hearings took so much time that a lot of the business usually transacted on opening night of the new fiscal year was postponed a week.

The various groups who presented complaints or inquired as to municipal action were:

Property owners of Watling rd.

Residents near Highland and Rockwell.

Scarsdale Property Owners Assn.

Stonegate Property Owners.

HERBERT JACOBSEN, developer of the Watling rd. area, was asked his intentions regarding improvement of that street. After considerable discussion between the board, Mr. Jacobsen and residents, the developer agreed he would report at the June 5 meeting the extent of road improvement that will be possible this year. He said that he would go ahead with the paving if three-fourths of the property owners go along with him.

Wm. E. Trude, developer of a considerable area on S. Vail and Highland, formally requested permission to pave Vail from Maple to Fairview; Highland, from Orchard to Maple. Previous request covers Vail ave. from Orchard to Maple and Evergreen ave. from Rockwell to Orchard.

The village engineer is preparing plans for black top surfacing and cement curbs and gutter.

Individual efforts of property owners in vicinity of Highland and Rockwell to remedy flood conditions was criticized by Mayor Goedke, who said that the action of the street department in cementing part of the manholes was necessary to control the amount of water entering the sewer, which in turn would keep a lot of water out of nearby basements.

The property owners stated that the ponds formed on their property because of that action were a nuisance.

SPECIAL ASSESSMENT hearings on the paving of Forrest ave. will start as soon as the engineers have estimates ready, explained Mr. Thal. He made the same statement regarding Dunton ave. widening.

Scarsdale representative asked that an excavation at the corner of Pine and Fairview be declared a nuisance and ordered filled as it was dangerous to children when filled with water. An investigation will be made by the village.

The association asked that tree stumps and tree limbs thrown onto vacant lots by builders be ordered removed.

With the clearing of the above hearings, the board had just got down to regular business at 10:30 p. m., when Paul Vawter of Stonegate, acting as the advance guard of a new Stonegate delegation, began asking a lot of questions regarding the action the board might have taken on the three original Besinger permits and the status of further Besinger building in that subdivision.

When Mr. Vawter was still on his feet, 32 Stonegate members arrived with their attorney, Frank Zaleski, of Des Plaines as their spokesman.

Attorney Thal told them that due to certain concessions placed in writing by Mr. Besinger, the board had instructed the building commissioner to issue the three permits.

STONEGATE WAS told that if their organization would present the names of three residents of that area, preferably an architect and a person familiar with building, Mayor Goedke would appoint them as an advisory committee to which would be referred all future building applications covering construction work in Stonegate.

Following a short recess between the closing session of the old board and the roll call of the new body, Stonegate offered the names of J. W. Milnamow, Joe McGrath and Frank Portman, who were duly appointed as members of the Stonegate Advisory committee.

POSTOFFICE CLOSES SATURDAYS AT NOON

Effective May 6, Arlington Heights postoffice will close at 12 noon on Saturdays. Due to pending applications for additional help, it will not be necessary for the local office to discharge any employee in order to meet the recent economy order of the department.

Inspectors have tentatively approved the establishment of a second rural route because of the excessive load of the present rural carrier.

Now you see him, now you don't!

Lions earn $570 by 'Queens' contest in community fund

Miss Jane Schimming was crowned the Arlington Heights Lions club queen at the coronation square dance held in the South side public school April 21. Pictured above are the queen and the queen's court at the ceremonies highlighting the Lion contest and dance.

Net receipts of the dance and contest were reported by the committee at the Tuesday night Lions meeting $570.02 which will be used by the club for community service.

IN THE REPORT of the committee in charge, signed by Lion Knoeppel, special mention was made of the fine cooperation of the members of the committee, particularly Ray Lohr who did all the tabulating, posting and banking of monies received. Noted in the report were courtesies extended by the merchants for use of their premises to place the bottles for voting, and also for special courtesies extended by Boettcher's Florists and Flaherty Jewelers.

The queen and her court received bracelets and bouquet of flowers from the Lions club. Miss Schimming will now have a chance to compete in the district contest and if winner of that, then to the state contest next month at Rockford, Ill.

The success of the event can be partly attributed to the good sportsmanship displayed by all of the contestants. They appeared to enjoy having a part in the civic project.

Eastwood has no objection to proposed homes east of Dryden

The story appearing in last week's Herald reading in part: "It is Eastwood this time who objects to new neighbors," was untrue in fact and in the impression it might give to the public.

Eastwood is not objecting to the class of homes that the developers are planning to erect east of Dryden. They do however ask that the development pay for its half of the paving of Dryden—the same as they did.

Eastwood residents—the entire fifty of them—have found that Arlington Heights is a neighborly town and they are ready to be good neighbors to other new residents.

The petition referred to in the original article reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned, as home owners in the area of Eastwood, and as members of the Eastwood Community Association, do hereby plead and petition that no building permits be issued for building on North Dryden Ave. between Miner Street and Euclid Ave. until definite arrangements have been made to complete the paving on the East side of North Dryden Ave., the west side of the street being now completely paved. The proposed paving of the East side of the street should equal the quality and symmetry of the paving now on the west side of the street.

This completion of the street is essential because:

1. Any spot paving would render a dengerous hazard.
2. Scattered paving (some frontage paved and some not) would devaluate property values in this area.
3. Non-completion of the street would be detrimental to the village, as a whole."

Scout paper pick-up this Saturday in Heights

Arlington Heights residents are urged to give full cooperation to the Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts in their first annual Spring paper drive to take place this Saturday.

The pick-ups will start shortly after 9 a. m. and residents are requested to leave bound newspapers and magazines in front of their homes as close to the street as possible. It is expected the pick-ups will be completed early in the afternoon.

All Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts will meet at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at both the South and North schools where all paper will be accumulated during the day. Fathers of Scouts of both groups have been urged to lend asistance. The use of any automobile, station wagons or trucks will be appreciated by the committee in charge.

Arlington Heights police has a busy year

Chief Skoog, Arlington Heights police head, presented his annual report Monday night to the village board. It was May 1, 24 hours after the end of the fiscal year, but the report was ready.

"It was easy" said Skoog, "because our records and reports are kept up-to-date."

The report was a lot of figures, but they are interesting to the person who wants to know just how busy Arlington Heights' ten police officers really are. Here they are:

Arlington Heights does a yearly business of $247,450.41

The report of Wm. F. Meyer Jr., village treasurer, presented to the Arlington Heights village board Monday night, gave the receipts of the year at nearly a quarter of a million dollars. The exact figure was $247,450.41.

Some of that money may be special deposit funds, etc., but Mr. Meyer handled that much money during the year. The net profits, if there is any such item in municipal financing, is awaiting the annual audit.

Charles Pingel, a former alderman, recalled Tuesday, when told the big business the village is doing, "The year we erected the big water reservoir and when we had other major expenses, the total was less than $70,000.

Public falls for old time subscription gyp

Hiring crippled G.I.'s to sell subscriptions solicitors for a supposedly veteran magazine operated a racket in Arlington Heights last week for two days before they were chased out of town. Their "take" was probably several hundred dollars. Some of the business men stopped payment on their checks after being notified by Paul Schwingels, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, that Chicago Better Business Bureau term it purely a racket and said that no veteran organization receives a penny.

SAME GROUP of four were chased out of Palatine earlier in the week. Palatine women have been alerted by the police of that city to report any high pressure methods of salesmen. One housewife notified the police, which in turn gave the four men time to get out of town. They evidently came to Arlington Heights.

In Arlington, on false pretences, they were given a police permit. The first business man visited directed them to also secure a permit from the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Schwingels asked one hour in which to investigate their claims. They did not wait for the report but went right to work.

After the business bureau exposed the racket, Secretary Schwingels made an effort to notify all members. If the business men had remembered to insist on the CC authorization all of them would have saved their money.

AUTOIST INJURED

Robert G. Paullion, 289 Illinois st., Elmhurst, received injuries requiring hospital attention April 29 when he hit a fence and pole at the intersection of Kensington and Northwest highway, Arlington Heights. The road curves at that point and the driver did not "curve" with it.

Blame sign board for two fatalities at Rts. 53-12

Mr and Mrs. James B. Rutherford of Mundelein died Monday night in the Palatine Community hospital a few hours after their car was hit by a semi-trailer truck used to haul milk from Camden, Wis., to River Forest at the intersection of Route 53 (Hicks Road) and Route 14 (Rand Road), three miles north of Palatine.

The location of a two way advertising sign causing dead-spots for autoists traveling on both highways was termed the possible cause of the accident by the state police.

The coroner's jury agreed with the police to the extent that its verdict included a recommendation to the Palatine Township board that an investigation be made of the sign location.

LEFT-HAND TURN on Higgins and Touhy caused an accident late Monday afternoon. Joseph Brandslatter, R. 2, Box 130, Palatine, was driving a 1940 Chevrolet northwest on Higgins road.

Benjamin Newton, 6904 Cornell ave., Chicago, driving a 1950 Buick was driving south on Higgins road. He attempted a left hand turn.

Both cars were badly wrecked but occupants received only minor injuries.

Building to be completed by Dec. 15

Ground breaking ceremonies were held Sunday afternoon at St. James Catholic church, Arlington Heights, which began construction this week on its new church, which should be ready for occupancy by Christmas.

Left to right: The two Simon brothers, who are with the Ashland Construction Co., which is building the church; Father Richard Rosemeyer, assistant priest; Father George Stier, priest at St. James; Father LaFreu of Techny, who assists at the church on week ends; and Milton Carstens, architect.

The old church is being moved to the corner of Pine and Frederick, and will be used as temporary class rooms beginning next fall until an addition is put on the school. Church services will be held in the school basement until the new church is finished.

All societies and organizations of the church will meet in the old church for the present.

Active planning for the new church only started the latter part of 1949, although a church fund amounting to $100,000 had previously been accumulated.

Since the establishment of the building fund, a large part of the parishioners are paying into the building fund ,the last Sunday of the month an amount equal to one day's labor or salary.

Community Camera

THE NEW BUILDING will have a seating capacity of 700. The full basement will be available for card parties, assemblies, etc., and as the congregation grows will take care of over-flow services.

The main floor of the church will also contain two vestries, baptism room and crying room for mothers with babies. A choir loft will seat 56. The building will be 90x33 feet.

Exterior materials will be brick and stone, the brick similar to that used in the present residence and school. The contractors have agreed to complete the building within 240 days and have set December 15 for the dedication services.

IT WAS ABOUT 45 years ago that a Catholic mission was established in Arlington Heights with the priest of Des Plaines holding one Sunday service. The present church was erected shortly afterwards and later the present school house.

School enrollment is increasing so fast that a school addition is really necessary, but the present church had to first be moved to provide needed ground space.

Arlington wins 9 firsts in state music contest

Students from Arlington Hts. township high school came home from the State Music contest with nine first place ratings, and seven second place ratings. The contest was held in Quincy last Friday and Saturday.

First place awards went to Connie Johnson, string bass solo; Gloria Cherwin, tenor saxophone solo; Peggy Bryson. French horn solo; Bob Runyon, baritone horn solo; saxophone quartet — Kay Bressner, Gloria Cherwin, Derwood Janssen, and Don Linneman.

CLARINET TRIO—June Rindlisbacher, Marjorie Bierwirth and Richard Hull; French horn quartet—Peggy Bryson, Ralph Gjoen, Karen Mogren and John Cooper; brass quartet — Warren Lattof, Ed Munson, Gilbert Arnold and Bob Runyon; and Madrigal singers—Mary Ann Gerbosi, Sallie Young, Peggy Bryson, Carol Faulstich, Sylvia Brown, Nancy Leue, Bob Shanley, Bob M. Arnold, Bob S. Arnold, Ken Schroeder, Roger Kennedy, Max Deethardt and Phil Knoeppel.

Second place awards went to Richard Hull, clarinet solo; Carol Faulstich, soprano solo, Bob Arnold, baritone solo; mixed quartet — Carolyn Hinneberg, Ada Faulstich, Darlene Chidley, Donna Zinkel; woodwind trio — Alan Johnson, Barbara Arnold and Myrna Tawney.

Baton ensemble—Alice Simroe, and Julie Hinds; and mixed vocal octet—Hazel Mueller, Betsy Jarrett, Inger-Marie Cosman, Sallie Young, Phil Knoeppel, Don Larsen, Jack Coleman and Dale Christie.

Chamber of Commerce tells its story to Scarsdale, Stonegate

Paul Schwingels, secretary of Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce, had the opportunity last Friday evening to outline to members of Scarsdale Property Owners Assn., Scarsdale Estates Improvement Assn. and the Stonegate property owners, the purpose and aims of the Chamber of Commerce.

He did such a good job that Scarsdale Property Owners Assn. voted four memberships.

The Estate and Stonegate groups were guests of Scarsdale and could not take official action but Stonegate and the Scarsdale Estates will probably each join the Chamber.

President Geo. Schneberger gave a short talk and introduced Schwingels, who gave as the first three objectives, sufficient parking, better street lighting, and control of solicitors as a protection to all citizens.

A buffet lunch was served.

NW BETTERMENT GROUP TO MEET NEXT TUESDAY

The Northwest Betterment group of Arlington Heights will hold a business meeting May 9, at 8:15 p. m., in the village hall. New officers will be elected and refreshments will be served.

Arlington Cancer Drive exceeds original quota

Arlington Heights people and various civic organizations entered as whole heartedly into the Cancer Drive sponsored by the Woman's Club that not only has the quota been exceeded, but additional pledges are on the way.

The total as this paper goes to press is $775. The collection cans have not yet been opened and Mrs. Shanklin reports that additional benefits are still to be held. She is holding the final report open until May 31.

Inquiries and contributions can be forwarded to Mrs. Shanklin, 217 Brighton Place, phone 1384-J.

Belleville CC official urges business men to actively enter politics

Walter E. Wagner, executive vice-president of Belleville Chamber of Commerce gave three straight-from-the-shoulder punches to members of Arlington Heights chamber Monday night at a dinner meeting attended by 65 business men.

He told the staid business man that he should take off his gloves and fight socialism, support wise economy and not be afraid to enter politics (not from a Republican or Democratic standpoint) for the protection of free enterprise.

Business men should get in there and pitch for the kind of a country that will maintain our democracy, said the speaker. His dynamic talk provided plenty of thought for his hearers. "A business man who just rides along with the current is not doing his part for his community."

Redwings to open 33rd season this Sunday

The Arlington Redwing baseball team, which has been providing baseball entertainment for many local residents as well as people of surrounding towns will open their 1950 season Sunday afternoon in Recreation Park.

As champions of the West Surburban Semi-pro League the Redwings will extend the number of consecutive years which Arlington Heights has had Semi-pro baseball to 33. Since 1919 Arlington fans have been able to watch baseball games each Sunday and holiday afternoons which have provided entertainment for thousands of people. In fact, the baseball displayed has been described many times as being as thrilling, unpredictable, and sometimes as good as the Chicago Major league teams has displayed.

To those people who have moved into Arlington Heights and neighboring areas the Arlington Redwings extend an invitation to Recreation Park every Sunday for an afternoon of baseball enjoyment at a reasonable price.

Two school bond issue elections are defeated

Opposition to the size of the bond issue and its interest rate is claimed as the contributing cause for the defeat of the $65,000 bond issue in School District 24, Palatine and Arlington Hts. roads.

The right to build the addition was defeated by three votes, the bond issue by 32. Total votes cast were 259.

THE TAX COMMITTEE of the Farm Bureau issued a bulletin claiming that the interest rate was too high and that the maintenance and operation costs of the additional rooms would cause a higher tax rate than claimed by the board.

A million dollar school bond issue for a new high school at Bensenville was also defeated Saturday. Nearly 2,000 votes were cast. The people of Bensenville overwhelmingly favored the project, but votes in the Wood Dale area were nearly three to one against the bond issue.

OPPOSITION claimed the project was too expensive and the operation of a junior high school in which the high school and a number of adjoining elementary school districts would participate, was too cumbersome and contrary to modern teaching practice.

Legion square dance this Saturday night

Merle Guild Post No. 208, Arlington Heights, will hold another of its dances this Saturday evening at Legion Hall.

When the Legion started square dancing six months ago as a one evening event, no one ever dreamed of the fun that could be had. With the large crowds that have turned out each month, no one goes home not having a good time.

Friends of the Legion and all members are invited to attend. A particular invitation is extended to all veterans of Arlington Hts. and vicinity. This affair is strictly informal. Blue jeans and ginghams will be the appropriate costumes. Instructions will be provided beginners by the regular caller, Legionaire Bob Bishop. No admission charge.

Will invite park board to sit-in with village to discuss park changes

Arlington village board will invite the members of the park board to sit-in with them at a coming meeting to discuss parking changes in the park.

"Co-operation between the two bodies will be beneficial to both," stated Mayor Goedke.

The initial planting of plot No. 1, between Evergreen and State rd., was done by Harold Klopp last week. Timbers for the parking rails are on the way and black topping for walks is on the way.

Besinger and village reach agreement

After a number of conferences last week between village board and Olie Besender and his attorney, an agreement was reached near midnight last Thursday that clears the way for the approval of the Besinger building applications in Stonegate.

The resolution that ended a controversy that has held up the Besinger building project in that subdivision reads in part as follows:

"1. WHEREAS, That on lots numbered 410 to 426, 265, 264, 263, 261, 9, 10, 11, 15, 16, 17, 18, 20, 111, 94, 95, 90 and 232, Besinger proposes to build single family dwellings . . . using wood siding for the second story except on buildings on lots 410 to 426 on which latter lots the upper story may be asbestos siding.

"2. If dwellings of a six and seven room types are to be constructed adjoining to each other on the same street or opposite each other on the same street, (the builder) will cause the front of such adjoining buildings or opposite buildings to be constructed so that the fronts shall not be of the same identical type.

"3. . . . structures to be placed on lots 346 to 406 inclusive shall be of the type under the plan designated by said builder as 'Four-Unit Town House'.

"Now, therefore be it resolved that the said permits applied for be issued and the building commissioner be instructed accordingly."

The special Stonegate committee appointed Monday night will have the opportunity to inspect all building plans in that subdivision and make any recommendation it desires to the building committee.

The village building committee and the building commissioner must issue permits for the lots specified above if the plans meet the building code and are in accordance with the April 27 resolution.

Masnys to retire after operating store 26 years

"With only one week's vacation during the 26 years we have operated our grocery and meat market in Arlington Heights we decided it is now time to take a good rest," said Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Masny, owners of Masny's Market, corner of Campbell and Vail aves.

The Masnys opened their store October 23, 1923, coming here from Evanston. They were one of the few independent grocers left in the village and many of their old time customers are going to miss the choice meats and groceries.

"WE WANT TO TAKE this opportunity to thank all our customers and friends we have made while operating our store. Their patronage has been greatly appreciated," said the Masnys.

Mr. and Mrs. Masny will close the store May 13, after which they plan to take a trip West, especially through the Ozarks, to see some of the country while they are still able to enjoy it. Upon their return they will live in the apartment above the store.

The store and ground floor rooms have been rented to Mrs. Eva Trava (Intravartolo), who will open up a snack bar there in the near future.

Informal dance Saturday sponsored by Newcomers

"So you think that 3 dollars won't buy much entertainment nowadays?" says Jane Lambert, president of the Arlington Hts. Newcomer's club. "Just lay it on the line between now and 9 p. m. Saturday night and you and friend wife or husband will 'own' the Itasca Country Club until the wee hours of the morning!"

Mrs. Lambert explains that the entire clubhouse is being taken over for the first annual spring dance (informal) of the Newcomer's club. Admission: 3 dollars per couple.

Though sponsored by the Newcomers, this event is open to all residents of the village and the Newcomers extend a cordial invitation to those who wish to attend. Tickets may be obtained by telephoning Mary Flodin, 1414-M.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 7, will be:

ADAM AND FALLEN MAN

The Golden Text is:

"When I said, My foot slippeth; thy mercy, O Lord, held me up" (Ps. 94: 18).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon, the following are from the Bible:

"The integrity of the upright shall guide them: but the perverseness of transgressors shall destroy them . . . This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh . . . If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit" (Prov. 11: 3; Gal. 5: 16,25).

The Lesson-Sermon includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Anybody, who is able to perceive the incongruity between God's idea and poor humanity, ought to be able to discern the distinction (made by Christian Science) between God's man, made in His image, and the sinning race of Adam . . . The real man cannot depart from holiness, nor can God, by whom man is evolved, engender the capacity or freedom to sin. A mortal sinner is not God's man . . . When speaking of God's children, not the children of men, Jesus said, 'The kingdom of God is within you,' that is, Truth and Love reign in the real man, showing that man in God's image is unfallen and eternal" (pp. 345, 475, 476).

Library corner

For the lovers of historical novels, the Arlington Heights Public Library again has a number of new ones on the shelves.

The Literary Guild selection for April, "The Plymouth Adventure," by Ernest Gebler, is a chronicle of the voyage of the Mayflower, and the establishment of a colony in the New World.

Two books of the Revolutionary period are "Phantom Fortress," by Bruce Lancaster, which tells of the fighting of Marion's men in South Carolina, and "Bridal Journey," by Dale Van Every, which relates the struggles in the wilderness beyond the Ohio.

"Morning Time," by Charles O'Neill is a truth and exciting novel concerned with the most momentous chapter in American history, the making and ratifying of the Constitution.

Mildred M. McNeilly has written "Each Bright River," the moving drama of the early Oregon settlers in 1845, when men stirred to a new battle cry, "54-40 or fight."

James Street's new novel "Mingo Dabney," is a vigorous tale of the Cuban Revolution in 1895.

All of these are tales of adventure, exploration, love and fighting, which will provide very entertaining reading, while bringing to life some of the important characters and events in the history of our country.

Richard Morrow wins $600 a year scholarship to Swarthmore college

Richard Morrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morrow of 622 Mayfair rd., Arlington Heights, has received a letter from the College of Admissions and Scholarships of Swarthmore college in Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, announcing that he is a recipient of the Swarthmore scholarship.

The scholarship entitles the holder to $600 toward college expenses and is renewable for four years on the basis of continued excellence in scholarship. The scholarship was awarded to Dick on the basis of his score in the College Board examinations.

Dick is a member of the National Honor Society of Arlington Heights township high school, is president of the Student Senate, and is a member of the "A" Club.

The In-Service training program for the Public schools of Arlington Heights for the 1949-50 school year opened with the Third Annual Planning Conference which was held August 29 to September 2, 1949.

The general meetings which were held duding the planning conference provided the background for continued study throughout the remainder of the school year concerning such matters as organization, instructional problems, and curriculum planning.

IN ADDITION to the regularly scheduled meetings which teacher groups held after school the Board of Education approved the incorporation of six half-days released time for students in the school calendar. No released time for students in grades one through four was provided due to the double session program for those groups. Half day periods during the months of November, December, January, February, March, and April provided the teaching staff with an opportunity to devote this time to group meetings, individual planning, visitations, and study of curriculum organization and presentation.

The In-Service training program of the upper-grade teachers was centered on the study of Language Arts in an Integrated Language Arts Social Studies Program. The philosophy, objectives, skills to be developed, and classroom procedures and activities were carefully evaluated in order to provide a program which more effectively integrates Language Arts and Social Studies.

The Special Teachers concentrated their efforts on improving classroom instruction and in coordinating special subjects with the core curriculum. Special attention was given to the part of special teachers in assisting the homeroom teachers with the individual pupil guidance.

THE KINDERGARTEN group worked out a detailed plan to be followed for open house talks to parents, parent conferences, and diagnostic letters. The group studied changes in a child as recorded in the cumulative reports from the kindergarten level through eighth grade. Plans are being made for a slight change in procedure during the beginning weeks of kindergarten next year. A new pamphlet on how to prepare children for the new experiences they find in kindergarten will be presented at the "summer-round-up." Kindergarten parents and teachers will have a better opportunity to become acquainted before children report to school.

The double session teachers studied the problem of grouping in the classroom. The group collected information through observations within the local school system, observations made while visiting other school systems, and from current educational literature on the subject. Detailed discussions have been held concerning the most effective type of classroom grouping.

In addition to the In-Service training program of the school system teachers of the Public Schools have attended various State, County, and local area metings relating to professional problems. Almost without exception the teachers of the Arlington Heights Public Schools have been active members in the Illinois Education Association and the National Education Association.

Thus through a planned, coordinated, In-Service training program the teaching personnel of the Public Schools have had ample opportunity for continued professional growth throughout the school year.

Csepp's Pantry to feature Bratwurst

Something new and different will be the feature attraction of Csepp's Pantry, the opening of which is announced this week by Dave Borgardt's Service (Sinclair Products) station, 1000 E. Northwest hwy., at Dryden, Arlington Heights.

Old fashioned, charcoal-roasted, Bratwurst heads the menu, which will also consist of hot dogs, hamburgers, and ice cream. Residents are urged to come in and try the Bratwurst.

Spanish teachers to attend educational meet

Miss Margaret Firth and C. J. Gallant, Spanish instructors at Arlington Heights township high school, will attend the spring educational meeting of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese at the Latin American Institute in Chicago this Saturday.

The program will consist of bilingual demonstrations of languages at work in which the staff students of the Latin-American Institute will endeavor to show the modern methods of teaching languages to prepare students for work in the field of language transcriptions, international relations, foreign service, or related fields.

BRIGHT NEW TOUCH TO A BIG BOLD BEAUTY
See something new here? That's right—the gleaming sweepspear now adorns the fenders of this ROADMASTER Riviera Sedan. An extra touch of distinction that's yours as a standard item.

What's the secret of the "UNRUFFLED" RIDE?

SOME car makers say springs make the ride—and so we give every Buick four of the soft, gentle coil springs practically all cars use on front wheels only.

Some say the drive is important—how power is transmitted to the rear wheels.

We agree—and use a torque-tube drive, that takes up all the thrust, freeing rear springs of driving pulsation.

Some stress tires—so you'll find low-pressure casings on every Buick, mounted on our own kind of Safety-Ride rims. Some play up shock absorbers—we make ours fast, soft and sure in action, to wash out all "after-bounce."

Then there are frames—and car weight—and engine mountings, which on Buick are a very special kind used nowhere else.

They're all important—yet the plain truth is no one of these things—or two or three—gives a ride you can truly call "unruffled."

We feel it takes all of them—springs, tires, shock absorbers, drive, engine mountings—carefully and precisely brought into balance with each other.

You can see why we think so in any Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER.

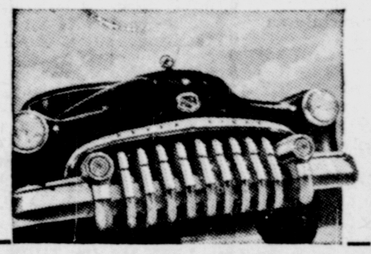
You can feel it on cobblestones and car tracks, washboardy gravel and weather-pocked macadam, country lane and city street. You even feel it on boulevards, which grow still smoother when you travel them in a Buick—especially when it has Dynaflow Drive.*

So we would like you to try a ride that is truly "unruffled." Free of harshness—undisturbed by jounce and jitter—level—steady-going—smooth.

Just ask any Buick dealer for a chance to try out any Buick. You'll find it "the ride of a lifetime"—and the buy of a lifetime too!

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT
This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.



Only Buick has Dynaflow— and with it goes:
HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

Brownie troop 25 sells 444 boxes of Girl Scout cookies

Community Camera

Pictured above are the members of Brownie Troop 25 of the South school, Arlington Heights, who did an outstanding selling job in the Girl Scout cookie sale. Twenty-six Brownies sold 444 boxes of cookies. Mrs. R. A. Lohr was the mother in charge.

Heights math teachers attend conference

Miss Dorothy Wilson, Nicholas Kushta and John Hookom, members of the faculty of the mathematics department of Arlington Heights township high school, attended the meeting of the National Council of Mathematics Teachers held at the Congress hotel in Chicago April 13 and 14.

Dr. Harold Hand of the University of Illinois presented an interesting lecture on, "Is the Common Learnings Program Part of the Answer?" Another outstanding speaker was Dr. Harold Fawcett of Ohio State University, who spoke on "The Role of Mathematics in a Common Learnings Program."

Demonstrations of teaching techniques, displays of mathematical film strip, and exhibits of mathematical instructional materials were found to be very informative by the local educators.

New officers inducted at Woman's club spring luncheon

The Arlington Heights Woman's club held its annual spring luncheon Tuesday in the Marine Dining Room of the Edgewater Beach hotel.

Highlights of the afternoon included a fashion show and the induction of the club's new officers for the coming year. Mrs. Milton Haase is the new president, and the other officers are: Mrs. Norman W. Crandall, first vice-president; Mrs. Charles Stadelman, second vice-president; Mrs. W. H. Spears, recording secretary; Mrs. Albert Lee corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Ray Landmeier, treasurer.

The new board of directors includes Mrs. J. C. Feddersen, Mrs. Sheridan Winter, Mrs. E. J. Harris, Mrs. A. L. Reed and Mrs. William E. Sauer.

The Marine dining room was beautifully decorated for spring by Mrs. Sheridan Winter, who was in charge of the luncheon and table decorations. There were flowers on some tables and others were decorated with bird cages containing flowers and greens, with a yellow bird perched in each and a green bow tied on the top. There were large centerpieces of flowers at both speakers tables. Mrs. Winter also made corsages for each person at the speakers tables.

The program started with a welcome by Mrs. George Tuttle, retiring president. Mrs. George F. Gschwindt, president of the Seventh District, gave a short talk complimenting the senior and junior clubs on their fine work.

Everyone at both speakers tables were introduced by Mrs. Tuttle, and she made note of the fact that the club has three members holding office in the Seventh District: Mrs. R. C. Frasier, art; Mrs. Dan E. Schueren, motion pictures, and Mrs. A. H. Franzen, international relations chairman.

Mrs. Harold Busse, newly elected president of the junior club was introduced, as was Mrs. Dewey Beck, the new senior club program chairman.

Mrs. Ralph Clabaugh gave a talk on the highlights of the club's accomplishments during the past year, and following this the new officers and board members took oath of office. Mrs. Haase then presented a silver covered serving dish to Mrs. Tuttle, a gift of appreciation for her work during the past year.

Mrs. Lewis Wills, the program chairman, introduced the fashion announcer from Lord's Department Store, and the style show got under way. Along with the latest fashions, four beautiful old-fashioned costumes from the year 1900 were modeled.

Two of the hats modeled were given away by Lord's. Mrs. Paul Immel of Arlington Heights received one, and Mrs. R. B. Clark of Chicago received the other. Mrs. Clark is the mother of Mrs. Arthur Nelson, one of the models, and she gave the hat to her daughter.

Those who modeled fashions in the show were Mrs. John Heintz, Mrs. V. H. Beisler, Mrs. J. A. Cousins, Mrs. Robert J. Marsh, Mrs. Arthur Nelson, Mrs. H. A. Busse, Mrs. Donald Cox and Mrs. J. B. Hoopes.

Others who modeled were Mrs. Harry Balch, Mrs. Carl G. Berlin, Mrs. Louise Feddersen, Mrs. S. T. Steen, Mrs. Edward Crofoot Jr. and Lucille Steen and Bobby Busse.

Tax collections in full swing

With all Cook county tax bills in the mail by May 1st, the collection machinery of the county is in full swing.

Both the county collector's office in the county building in Chicago and the offices of the various township collectors are doing a brisk business.

Penalty date is June 1st at the county building. The township collectors will be on the job until May 27th.

Any person who failed to receive a tax bill, having recently purchased the property or for any other reason, are asked to see their local collector at once and get things straightened out.

Many bills annually go to former owners where no request for a change of name has been made.

The fact that a deed has been recorded means absolutely nothing as far as the record on the tax books is concerned. A request for a name change must be made.

Attend FHA rally at Libertyville high

Six members of the Homemaking department of Arlington Hts. township high school and their advisers, Miss Mary Handlin and Miss Marian Diehl, attended a Future Homemakers of America rally at Libertyville high school April 29.

Girls who represented the local club are Betty Tischer, Carol Mueller, Marlene Thomas, Gwendolyn Miller, Verdell Hildebrandt, and Diane Maierhofer. The business meeting was conducted by Louise Barbier, F. H. A. section president from McHenry.

The program for the day consisted of group singing, the F. H. A. opening ceremony, talks on F. H. A. scholarships and on the teaching of homemaking, a style show, and a movie "Footprints in Bermuda."

Elementary school faculty changes

At a meeting of the Board of Education of District 25 held last week, Dennis Malcolmson was employed to teach in the system during the coming year. Mr. Malcolmson will have a fifth grade in the North school and will handle the playground supervision and boy patrol there. He has been employed for the past two years as a teacher in the Harris school in Chicago. He has been a resident of Arlington Heights during this time and has been active in community activities.

Walter Goebbert was also employed as a custodian in the South school. Mr. Goebbert will replace Willard Heimsoth, who resigned to become a mechanic at Bill's Service Station. During the past year, Willard has been working a limited schedule at the school and studying auto mechanics in Chicago under the G. I. plan. He is the son of Edward Heimsoth, head custodian at the South school, who has served at that school for almost twenty-five years.

At this meeting the board appointed Mr. Clemans, industrial arts teacher, as buildings and grounds director. Mr. Clemans will continue to teach the shop classes, but will devote the summer and a part of his day during the school year to assisting the superintendent in the planning and supervision of the repair and maintenance program of the school system.

Dorothy Trausch bride of Harry Wieder

Wedding bells rang April 29 for Miss Dorothy Thersa Trausch and Harry Wieder.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Trausch of 6419 Lincoln ave., Morton Grove. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cloice Wieder of Wheeling.

The ceremony took place at 4 p. m. at the Glenview Naval Air Station chapel with Father Desmond officiating. The chapel was decorated with palms, baskets of white carnations and stocks, and vases of pink snapdragons. "Ave Maria" and "Because" were sung during the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Clarence Trausch. Her gown of white slipper satin was fashioned with long sleeves, a high neckline of net, and a long train. The front of the gown was trimmed with raised flowers of seed pearls, and the skirt draped at the bottom to show delicate accordion-pleated ruffles. She wore a finger-tip veil and a tiara trimmed with seed-pearl hearts. Her bouquet was of white roses and sweet-peas.

The matron-of-honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Arthur Meyer of Morton Grove. Her gown of yellow nylon marquisette had a fitted bodice, puffed sleeves, and a high neckline. The full skirt was fashioned with ruffles down the back. She wore a matching yellow headband and carried a bouquet of yellow and white carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Shirley Wieder, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Eugene Paulsen, of Glenview. Their gowns and headbands were styled the same as the matron-of-honor's. Miss Wieder wore a pink nylon marquisette gown and carried pink and white carnations. Mrs. Paulsen wore an aqua gown and carried aqua and white carnations.

Miss Mary Kay Trausch of Glenview, the bride's niece, was the flower girl. She wore an ice blue satin gown with a net overskirt which was draped at the bottom with flowers. She carried a small bouquet of blue and white carnations.

The best man was Dean Meachum of Wheeling, the groom's brother-in-law. Ushers were Arthur Meyer and Eugene Paulsen.

The bride's mother wore a light beige dress and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Wieder wore a pink and green print crepe dress and a corsage of pink roses.

A wedding dinner for the immediate family was held at the Union Hotel in Wheeling. Other guests attended an open-house reception at the bride's home Saturday evening.

The couple is now at home at 5420 Lincoln ave. in Skokie.

Up and Doing 4-H club

The second annual installation banquet was held April 28, at St. John's Lutheran school in Elk Grove.

The guests of honor were Mrs. Warren Long, North Cook County 4-H chairman, of Glenview; and Mrs. E. Coulter, assistant home adviser, of Park Ridge. There were approximately 50 parents present.

The highlight of the evening was the candle lighting ceremony for the new members. The girls taking the pledge were: Diane Deeke, Pat Harrah, Marlene Kerschke, Connie and Faith Knowles, Nancy Mahler, and Virginia Roetter.

The remainder of the evening was spent singing and playing games.

The banquet was served by members of the Elk Grove Home Bureau Unit.

Adeline Kerschke, Reporter.

Wheeling Home Bureau

The Wheeling Unit of the Home Bureau held its 100th meeting April 27. at the home of Mrs. Irene Meyer, Palatine and Wilke rd. Eight charter members were present and one member, Mrs. Elsie Kirchoff, had a perfect attendance record.

A dessert luncheon was served by Mrs. Meyer, Mrs. Eleanor Rindlisbacher and Mrs. Gertrude Shroeder.

During the lesson period which followed, different members of the club exhibited their handiwork: a knitted bedspread, sweater and bed jacket, hooked rug, chocheting, tatting and hair pin lace. The exhibitors of the articles offered to teach the members who are interested in their hobbies.

Mrs. Laura Fritz gave a demonstration of the "Kansas patch," primarily used for mending blue jeans.

Legion 'Old Timers' meet

Tuesday evening, May 9, the Merle Guild Post, Arlington Heights, will hold its second "Old Timers" meeting night.

At the first "Old Timers" meeting it was decided to have a night set aside every other month for a meeting when older members of the post may come out and join in the activities. It has been made bi-monthly in order that the men will make a special effort to come out and renew interest in the activities of the post. It will be a night when they know they will meet a considerable number of their old friends.

A particular invitation is extended to all past members of the post, who at present are not members, to come out and renew old acquaintances and talk over "old times."

Talent Teens put on show for 1300 sailors at Great Lakes base

Nearly 1300 sailors in boot training at Great Lakes Naval Training station applauded the Des-Mount-Arl Talent Teens for the wonderful show they gave Sunday night at the Ross auditorium.

The Teens usually entertain hospitalized vets, old folks, or hospitalized children, and it was solid proof that they had a good show when they kept a group of young, healthy sailors entertained for nearly an hour with their song, dance and musical numbers.

They entertained the children at the Chicago Parental home April 21. The home superintendent said, "The children here are so seldom remembered by entertainment groups, and we haven't any money to pay for entertainment, so your show was indeed a splendid gift. You can tell by how the children reacted that it was a big hit with them."

The Teens are now in the midst of rehearsals for their benefit show which they will put on at the Arlington Heights township high school gym, May 26, at 8 p. m. The success of the show will be a deciding factor as to whether the Teens can continue their good work of bringing happiness to hospitalzied veterans and other groups in need of entertainment. Keep the date open and plan to attend.

Methodist church in campaign to reach all members

Announcement has been made by Rev. R. Robert Ismay, pastor of the First Methodist church of Arlington Heights, that a campaign which will reach all members of the local congregation will begin this Sunday, which has been designated as Loyalty Sunday.

Object of the campaign is twofold: to better acquaint each church member with the work of the Methodist denomination; and to give each one an opportunity to share regularly in the program of the world church as well as to support his church in its own local and conference responsibilities.

Letters and literature on the matter have been mailed to each member and constituent and they will be called upon by a representative of the church during the next two weeks.

"In this manner we will reach our entire membership in this important campaign," said Rev. Ismay.

Colic in Horses

Daily exercise, good roughage, and plenty of fresh water that is not too cold are the best means of preventing impaction and colic in horses during the winter months

Edward Walter Jr. takes Edna Koenig as bride

—Jenart Studio.

Edward Walter Jr., son of E. Walter of Prairie View, took as his bride Edna Koenig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Koenig of Arlington Heights.

Rev. F. Hertwig officiated at the 7 o'clock ceremony which took place April 23 at St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran church in Schaumburg. Mr. Kolza was the organist.

The bride wore a white satin gown with a lace-trimmed neckline and carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis. Her lace-edged fingertip veil was held in place by a crown of seed pearl. The bride's brother, Henry F. Koenig, gave her in marriage.

Miss Alma Gieske of Chicago was maid of honor and Miss Dolores Hageman of St. Charles was a bridesmaid. They wore white crepe gowns and carried bouquets of red roses. The flower girls, Ruth and Lorna Koenig, wore white taffeta gowns and also carried bouquets of red roses. All of the attendants wore pearl necklaces, a gift from the bride.

Reinhard Koenig was the best man, and the ushers were Mel Walter, brother of the groom, Elmer Linneweh and Edward Koenig, brother of the bride.

A reception was held in the west school basement and dinner was served to the guests by the members of the Ladies Aid.

After a wedding trip to Kentucky and Tennessee the bride and groom will make their home with the bride's parents.

Three Heights students in spring concert of Chicago Youth Orchestra

Three Arlington Heights township high school students will play with the Youth Orchestra of Greater Chicago in its spring concert Friday, May 12, at 8:15 p. m., in Orchestra Hall, Chicago.

Peggy Bryson will play the French Horn, Connie Johnson the string bass, and Nan McCarty the violin.

Featured on the program will be music by Bach, Dvorak, Saint-Saens, Grieg and Tschaikowsky. Guest conductor for the concert will be Tauno Hannikainen, associate conductor, Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

Coloists will include Mayne Miller, pianist, of Maine Township high school, Des Plaines, who was one of the winners in the Orchestra's solo contest.

Tickets for the concert are still available and may be purchased through Mrs. Grace Kemper, 705 Oak st., Winnetka, Ill. Telephone Winnetka 6-1314. They may also be purchased at the Orchestra Hall box office after May 8. Main floor and balcony $1.25, gallery 50 cents.

Life Insurance Benefits

The total of life insurance benefits left as income instead of lump sum is currently twice the total so used just 10 years ago.

Annual Tag Day for aged and adult charities to be held Tuesday, May 9

"Remember the aged," will be the appeal that will be made by volunteer workers Tuesday, May 9, when the Chicago Federation of Aged and Adult Charities sponsor a tag day through Chicago and the suburbs.

Since 1916 this annual tag day has been held with permission of the mayor of Chicago and the villages and communities of the metropolitan area.

The Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged at Arlington Heights is a member of the Federation and will receive its share of the contributions that are made next Tuesday.

Workers will be at the railroad stations and streets of Palatine, Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect that day.

LeRoy Knoeppel to take part in panel discussion

LeRoy J. Knoeppel, principal of Arlington Heights township high school, will be one of the participants in a panel discussion group at the Forty-fifth Annual Meeting of the Northern Illinois Conference on Supervision.

The conference will be held May 5 at the Northern Illinois State Teachers college at DeKalb. Mr. Knoeppel will discuss the topic, "How Can the Use of the School Plant be Used to Enrich the Life of the Community?"

The general theme of the conference will be. "Education as a Responsibility of the Whole Community." William Porter, Assistant Director of the National Citizens Commission for the Public Schools will address the educators on the topic, "The Citizen and His Schools." Dr. E. T. McSwain, Dean of the University college of Northwestern university will speak on "Education is a Community's Investment in Its Future."

Returned from trip

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hendricks and children just returned from a most interesting and scenic motor trip thru Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska, Kansas and Iowa. They went down to Mt. Rose, Colorado, a section of the country which is called the "Switzerland of America," through Box Canyon, and came back part of the way in Kansas. The weather was perfect during the whole trip. Along with oh-ing and ah-ing at the beautiful scenery, the children busily gathered up specimens for their science and social studies classes.

Parties

Sunday was indeed a day of celebration for the members of C. Elbert Ritter's family; 24 of them gathered at the Ritter household and spent the day. Among other things, it was the occasion for the celebration of birthdays of several in the party.

An important day in the life of little W. Henry Smiley, nicknamed "Butchie" was Sunday. It was his second birthday. Members of his family and friends from Chicago helped him celebrate. He was intrigued with his unusual birthday cake, which had a gay and saucy little clown right in the center of it. His grandfather had ordered it especially for "Butchie." He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lucas.

A week ago Saturday their family, relatives and friends gathered at the Harry Schuldt home to help celebrate the birthday of Mr. Schuldt.

The Richard Yelton family recently attended the birthday party of 5-year-old Teddy Schultz of Chicago, held at the Svithoid Singing Club. Eighteen little children and their parents were present. There was a different note to this party too, the children brought birthday gifts to the little guest of honor and they, in turn, received one—a little plastic set of dishes for each little girl, and a little plastic garage with two cars in it for each little boy. Movies were shown, and a number of moving pictures were taken of the youngsters. Afterwards they all enjoyed ice cream and cake.

The Howard Nelson family attended a house warming for the Roger Harpers in Skokie Friday evening.

Sympathy

Mrs. Norman Moran just returned from the funeral of her mother, Mrs. McKinney of Marion, Indiana. The community extends its sympathy to Mrs. Moran.

Entertaining

Mrs. David Kenyon will entertain two former neighbors from Chicago at luncheon Thursday. They are Mrs. John Flynn and Mrs. Herbert Vander Waght.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Robinson and daughter, Mary Ellen, of Rogers Park were recent dinner guests of the Jack Thompsons.

Mrs. Joseph Miller entertained Mrs. John Fenstermaker, Mrs. Kenneth Strickler, Mrs. Edmund Mueller and Mrs. Paul Mulvaney at bridge Friday evening.

Visited

The James E. Wood family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Shaffer of Pontiac, Ill., former neighbors of theirs in Sherwood. They had great fun in again taking up the threads of their friendship where they left off.

The Arnold Siders were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Less of Sycamore, Ill., Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lewinski, their daughter, Diane, and her fiance, John Otzen, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Kinnee of Wauwautosa, Wis., sister of Mrs. Lewinski, Sunday.

Special Events

The Edward Lyons spent the week end in Des Moines attending the Drake university reunion and relay races. They were not prepared for all the snow and ice they found when they reached Des Moines, and it was a trifle chilly watching the relays, but they had a good time meeting old friends. Drake is the alma mater of Mr. Lyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mulvaney attended the Thursday night Bowler's Banquet held at the Roling Green Country club Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fellingham attended the University of Michigan alumni dinner at the Chicago Bar association Wednesday evening. President Ruthven of Michigan was the guest speaker. His subject was the 'Phoenix Project," which advocates the expending of the uses of atomic energy towards the furtherance of peace; e. g. in cure of diseases, etc. This project, was suggested by the students of the University of Michigan as a War Memorial to the many hundred students and alumni who gave their lives in World War II.

The James Colvins had a marvelous time at the Newspaper Guild "Page 1" Ball held at the Stevens hotel Saturday evening.

Extend his thanks

Friends of Hugo Eiler will be pleased to know that he appreciates the many cards that were sent to him while in the hospital. He offers his deepest and sincerest thanks for such acts of thoughtfulness during his extended illness have meant so much to him and his family.

House Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Smith and daughter, Mary Jean, of Grand Rapids, Mich., are visiting the William J. Warren family this week. Mr. Gilbert is a brother of Mrs. Warren.

Walter Pautch of Chicago was a house guest of the Harry Schuldt family last Tuesday.

C. A. Righter of Whiting, Ind., and Minocqua, Wis., recently was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marx and family for a week. He was on his way up to his cottage in Minocqua where he will spend the summer. The Marxs received a card from him today saying the snow was so deep he could not drive up the road to his cottage, and that in addition they had had two inches of fresh snow. Spring weather?????

James Colvin will be at the University of Missouri this week witnessing a Photo Judging Contest.

Dorothy Leider, Martin Goerger wed recently

St. Mary's church in Kansasville, Wis., was the scene of the recent wedding of Miss Dorothy Leider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leider of Union Grove, Wis., and Martin E. Goerger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin M. Goerger of Arlington Heights.

Father Alfred Weber officiated at the ceremony and nuptial high mass which took place April 29. The church was beautifully decorated with snapdrag- and roses.

The bride wore her sister's wedding gown of ivory satin and lace fashioned with a full skirt and bustle back and long train. A Dutch style cap of lace held her fingertip veil in place. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Miss Hildegarde Leider attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore an orchid taffeta gown with fitted bodice and buttons down the front to just below the waistline, cap sleeves and a full skirt with bustle back.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Violetta Leider, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Alice Hacker, sister of the groom. Their gowns were of pale green taffeta, styled similar to the maid of honor's. All three attendants carried bouquets of yellow carnations and wore yellow carnations in their hair.

Best man for the groom was his brother, Andrew Goerger. The ushers were Joseph Leider Jr. and Walter Geudtner.

The bride's mother wore a gray suit with gray and navy accessories. The groom's mother wore a turquoise gown with gray and black accessories. Both had corsages of white carnations.

A wedding dinner was served at noon for the immediate family and the bridal party at the Hotel Burlington in Burlington, Wis. In the evening a reception was held for 200 guests at the American Legion Hall in Union Grove.

Ladies Aid to sponsor Folkerth Lunch May 9

The Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian church, Arlington Hts., are sponsoring a Folkerth luncheon to be held May 9 at 12:30 in the church basement.

Tickets are 75 cents and may be obtained by phoning Mrs. H. Moore, 78-R.

Engagement announced

Mr and Mrs. M. Suerth of Arlington Heights announce the engagement of their daughter, Betty, to Robert Dickinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Dickinson of Long Grove.

No definite wedding date has been set.

Talented cast to show 'Blithe' Spirit' May 12-13

Village Theatre, Inc. of Arlington Heights will present another talented cast in its production, "Blithe Spirit," to be held May 12 and 13 at the South school auditorium, at 8:15 p. m.

The Noel Coward play is under the direction of A. Douglas Anderson of Arlington Heights. The cast includes Mrs. Virginia Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hawley, Mr. and Mrs. R. Dennis Malcolmson, Mrs. Vi Freeland and Mrs. Theodore E. Bjork.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT Hawley as a husband and wife team, Charles and Ruth Condomine, a successful author and his lovely help-mate, take two of the leads in the play. Both Hawleys have been active in the entertainment field since high school—he as a thespian—she as a public speaker. Mrs. Hawley was awarded second prize in an American Legion state wide contest. Both have written scripts for minstrels and light operettas and Mr. Hawley has assisted in producing and directing the annual variety shows for the Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago.

He is an accomplished musician and during the war helped build morale by playing an excellent trumpet and staging variety shows in the navy backareas.

Mrs. Hawley recently appeared with the Village Theatre, Inc., as a cockney cook in "Night Must Fall."

MRS. THEODORE E. BJORK, who portrays Elvira, the impish first wife of Charles in the play, takes the third leading part. She has studied voice and has a natural flair for writing. She played the lead in high school plays and operettas, and in her college Christmas production.

In college she concentrated on radio and wrote, produced and directed a weekly radio program. She was assistant radio chairman at Evanston community college and Evanston township high school, where two programs a week were presented. She is a graduate of Oklahoma university, where she was a member of the O. U. Women's quartet and active in all choirs and later sang in the Messiah at Evanston.

Information about the rest of the cast will appear in next week's paper.

Betty Jean Bauer and N. Clinton Lyman exchange vows in double ring ceremony

Community Camera

In a double ring ceremony held April 28 at the Faith Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, Miss Betty Jean Bauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Bauer of Palatine, became the bride of N. Clinton Lyman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Lyman of Torrington, Conn.

Rev. Edgar Behrens officiated at the 7:30 o'clock candlelight ceremony which took place before an altar banked with flowers.

The bride wore an ivory satin gown fashioned with a round neckline embroidered with lace, and a long train. A satin and lace headpiece held her fingertip veil in place. She carried a white orchid and lilies of the valley on a prayer book.

Miss Carole Bauer was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a pink taffeta gown and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations. Her headpiece was fashioned of the same flowers.

The bridesmaids were Miss Lucille Youngren and Mrs. Lawrence Mark, both of Chicago. They were gowned in blue taffeta and carried bouquets of red carnations.

Best man for the groom was William Barnes of Chicago. The ushers were Robert Lyman, brother of the groom, of Watertown, Conn., Donald Hudson of Evanston, and Joseph Jensen and Albert Nelson, both of Chicago.

The bride's mother wore a gray gown and a corsage of white roses, while the groom's mother wore a pink gown and a corsage of violets.

Following the ceremony a reception took place at the Mt. Prospect Country club.

The bride attended Palatine high school and Bradley university. The groom attended Tilton Junior college in Tilton, N. H., and Babson Institute in Boston, Mass.

The newlyweds are at home at 930 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights.

St. John's Evening Guild to hold card party May 18

The Evening Guild of St. John's Episcopal church, Mt. Prospect, plans to hold their annual May card party May 18 at 8 p. m. at the Arlington Heights field house.

Donations of 85 cents per person include refreshments consisting of homemade cake and coffee. There will also be special attractions.

Mrs. George Magnuson, head of the ways and means committee, is the general chairman of the party. Her assistants are Mrs. Richard Lambert, Mrs. Curtis Parsons, Mrs. Robert Voss, Miss Margaret Johnston and Mrs. Robert Hey.

The social committee in charge of refreshments is lead by Mrs. John Beverly. Her committee consists of Mrs. George O'Day, Mrs. Jack Howard, Mrs. Wilton Neilson, Mrs. W. Belcher and Mrs. J. Enander.

Mrs. Fred Sargent and Mrs. Curtis Parsons are in charge of cards and tallies, and Mrs. Thomas Williams, Mrs. Allan Armstrong, Mrs. Wilfred Colmar and Mrs. M. Flack are in charge of tables.

In charge of ticket sales are Miss Betty Miles and Mrs. Charles Tesser.

The public is invited to attend.

—Bak Photo

Miss Lois Jean Hansa of Arlington Heights, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Meier of Glenview, became the bride of John Dietz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Dietz of Chicago April 29.

Father Rosemeyer officiated at the 9:30 a. m. ceremony which took place at St. James Catholic church. The church was decorated with gladioli and stocks.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast for the bridal party and immediate family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Zachwieja of Arlington Heights.

The bride wore a wheat-colored gabardine suit with green accessories and carried a prayer book with a bouquet of orchids and stephanotis.

The maid of honor, Miss Caroline Engels of Palatine, wore a coral suit with brown accessories and a corsage of pale yellow and pink carnations. Albert Shulskey of Arlington Heights was the best man.

The newlyweds are making their home at 1016 W. Campbell in Arlington Heights.

A BETTER DUMONT with a lower price tag

The way Du Mont owners boast about their performance, you'd think there was no room for improvement—but:

This one has a clear, bright 85 square-inch picture on the new Du Mont 12½ inch tube.

It has greater sensitivity (which means better reception everywhere, including "fringe areas").

It has greater immunity to interference.

It has full-range FM radio.

Then on top of all these improvements, Du Mont's increased production has brought the price way down.

FAVORITES For FLAVOR

by MARILYN McLENNAN

Mrs. Rowland Laughlin, president of the Arlington Heights PTA and active mother of Jimmy 13, Judy 11, and Bobby 6, gives us two of her favorite "old standby recipes."

First is Chicken Tetrazinni. It's a delightful chicken and spaghetti combination, enhanced with fresh sauted mushrooms and pimentos, baked in a rich cream sauce and flavored with Sherry wine. Grated Italian cheese sprinkled generously on top is the final touch of this gormet's dish.

Accompany with a crisp tossed vegetable salad and thick slices of French bread garlic buttered and oven-warmed.

"I'm always sure of this one," commented Mrs. Laughlin when discussing her Buttermilk Chocolate cake, the second recipe featured today.

Chicken Tetrazinni

6 pound chicken stewed
2 pkg. long spaghetti
1 box fresh mushrooms
1 can pimento
½ cup butter (or oleomargarine)
1½ pts. cream
1 tablespoon flour
3 tablespoons Sherry
Italian grated cheese
Paprika

Cut the stewed chicken into chunk size pieces. Cook spaghetti and drain. Brown the mushrooms and pimento in butter.

Make a white sauce of butter, cream and flour. Add salt, pepper, and paprika to taste. Mix with the rest of ingredients. Add sherry and put in a greased casserole. Sprinkle Italian grated cheese on top and paprika. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) for ¾ hour.

Yield: 12 servings.

Buttermilk Chocolate Cake

½ cup butter
1½ cup sugar
2 eggs (unbeaten)
2 cups sifted cake flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup buttermilk or sour milk
1 tespoon vanilla
2 squares bitter chocolate
1 teaspoon soda
1 tablespoon vinegar

Cream butter, add sugar gradually. Add one egg unbeaten, and beat thoroughly. Add second egg and continue beating. Alternately add flour and salt sifted together and the buttermilk to which vanilla has been added.

Melt chocolate over hot water, add to mixture and beat thoroughly. Dissolve soda in vinegar and add last.

Pour into two greased 9-inch cake pans and bake at 350 degrees for 25-30 minutes.

Attention homemakers! If you have a special dish, or a favorite recipe or perhaps an old foreign recipe handed down through your family and would like to share it with our readers, please call me at Arlington Heights 1520, or write to Food Editor, c/o Herald, Arlington Heights.

Mr. Grandt has worked for the Forest Preserves for 33 years. He and his wife have seven children, fourteen grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

"A lovely party from start to finish — from the darling bird cage table decorations made by Mrs. Sherman Winter to the Edgewater Beach's especially nice luncheon to the fashion show," is the way one Arlington Heights Woman's club member described the club's annual spring luncheon Tuesday.

The club's retiring president, Mrs. George Tuttle, was wearing a yellow corsage, which showed up nicely against her navy blue outfit. She was presented with a sterling silver covered vegetable dish as a "thank you" for a job well done.

The spring-ily clad audience included Mrs. L. T. McAuliffe, Mrs. Frank Wood, Mrs. M. W. Grigsby, Mrs. Charles Crysler, and Mrs. Charles Freeland.

Back by popular demand to "do" the fashion show was Lord's of Evanston, who presented the successful one of last year. "Christine" of radio fame served as the commentator.

In keeping with the "Through the Hourglass" theme, four models presented fashions of 1900, just a half century ago.

Both preceding and following this period piece, local women appeared in the latest and loveliest of daytime and evening dresses.

Mrs. Arthur Nelson modeled a begonia print skirt with a yellow off-the-shoulder blouse topped off with a cartwheel straw hat trimmed in brown. For afternoon Mrs. J. B. Hoopes wore a two-piece red suit in butcher linen.

Mrs. Harry Balch was sporty in "Kissin' Kin Tuckin'" of white stag with a most attractive hat of robin's egg. The black sheer crepe dress modeled by Mrs. Robert J. Marsh, and the hat she wore with it—of straw with a green veil and yellowish silk roses—was one of the favorites of the show.

Probably the most sensational single item on parade was the stunning ranch mink cape worn by Mrs. J. A. Cousins with a rose chiffon dinner dress with lace bodice. Also for evening was a lovely rose-trimmed chiffon formal in a toast shade worn with a mink blended squirrel cape, by Mrs. H. A. Busse.

Inevitably, the children stole the show. Lucille Steen and Bobby Busse received loud applause each time they appeared. Bobby, it seemed, couldn't move along the runway and through the crowd fast enough—probably something intriguing in the Hopalong Cassidy manner was waiting for him backstage.

With the memories of this luncheon to carry them through the summer and next year, the members of the Arlington Heights Woman's club will really have something to shoot at, to keep up with their tradition of having each one "better than ever."

Newcomers night

Baby sitters are in big demand for Saturday, for this is the night members of the Newcomers club of Arlington Heights have been planning for a long time. It's a red letter day for them, the day of their first dance to be held at the Itasca Country club from 9 till 1.

The club was chosen because of its attractive setting and convenience to the village, as well as the fact that it is just enough out of the ordinary to be interesting. Bids are $3.00 per couple.

The Newcomers club, noted for its friendliness, welcomes any resident of this community and other friends to attend their party. Tickets may be obtained from members of the club.

Relay rooters

Villagers can be mighty proud of the record the local high school boys made at the Palatine relays last Saturday, for they walked off with the Class A championship as if it were no trouble at all. The Arlington boys had close to a 30-point margin over the second place team, Geneseo high school.

Palatine, in Class B for schools with less than 425 students, also made a good showing, coming in second.

What was especially pleasing to an adult in the crowd was the fact that the Arlington students seemed to cheer Palatine on in their section, while the Palatine rooters were all out for Arlington in theirs. Even though the two "natural" rivals weren't competing, it was good to see them boosting each other.

Legion Auxiliary card party is big success

The benefit card party given by the Arlington Heights' Women's Auxiliary, Merle Guild Unit 208, American Legion, April 21, was termed a success by everyone who attended.

The Auxiliary wishes to thank the 37 business establishments that cooperated in making the event a success, and to thank George Meyer, Legionnaire, and Betty Ann Tischer for making the attractive posters which advertised the party.

The donations received by the Auxiliary from Al Werner and Mike Brown were greatly appreciated, as was the excellent cooperation of the Commander and members of the Legion. The cakes made and served by members of the Auxiliary added another enjoyable aspect to the evening.

Those in charge of the card party and who worked very hard to make it a success were Ann Sider, ticket chairman; Anita Balfour, refreshment chairman; Millie Russell, president; Etta FitzPatrick, Dolores Morici, May Jorgensen and Carolyn Messenger, activities chairman.

Four teachers in child study group panel discussion

A panel discussion of teachers spoke at the meeting of Arlington Heights Child Study Group April 27.

Miss Reeb, Mrs. Buchholz, Mrs. Skadberg and Mrs. Bentley discussed "Growing Responsibility" as they have seen it develop from kindergarten through the fourth grade.

They agreed that children must be praised to make them want to assume responsibility. Parents and teachers should live up to their responsibilities to set an example for the child.

Another point that was stressed was that the job should not be too big for the child's capabilities. An open discussion period followed the panel.

Bundle day drive to collect clothing for needy children

A Save-the-Children "Bundle Day" drive to collect serviceable, used clothing will be launched in the Arlington Heights Township high school May 10, under the sponsorship of the Student Senate, Principal LeRoy J. Knoeppel announced today.

The drive, which is part of the ninth National Children's clothing crusade conducted under the auspices of a national committee of school superintendents, will last for two days. Clothing obtained will be distributed by the Save the Children Federation in its program of assistance to children in isolated rural areas of the United States and in seven European countries. If it were not for the bundle day collections thousands of these children would not be able to attend school during inclement weather because of lack of proper clothing.

DR. W. HOWARD Pillsbury, former president of the American Association of School Administrators, and chairman of the Federation's National Advisory Committee of school superintendents, points out that the public school bundle day "provides a practical and effective means of clothing collection, and, at the same time, teaches youth in the schools to share with the less fortunate. A sense of brotherhood will be fostered and a foundation laid for international good-will by participation in the National Children's Clothing Crusade."

About a third of the children who will be helped are in seven war-depleted European countries. The rest live in disadvantaged rural areas of America and on the Navajo Indian Reservation and belong to such low income groups that they are to a considerable extent dependent on this clothing in order to go to school.

Most important is warm clothing — heavy underwear, wool skirts, suits, sweaters and coats. Bundle Day clothing goes to people whose first need is warmth—not style. If the clothing is warm, even adult sizes can be cut down and gratefully used.

CHILDREN'S SHOES are next in importance. Even though, scuffed, America's outgrown shoes still have miles of use left in them. Here again, some adult sizes can be used. But, she warns, high-heeled women's shoes are of no use to either mothers or children in areas served by the Federation.

Babies' clothing is in constant demand. Diapers, crib-blankets, night-shirts, warm sweaters and undershirts are needed.

Mrs. White's note to Principal Knoeppel stressed the importance of having all gifts cleaned and in as good repair as possible . . . "because these gifts will be symbols of new hope to many needy children."

Principal Knoeppel asked families without school age children to join in the effort to clothe needy children and their families.

"Any child in your neighborhood will be glad to take your contribution of shoes, clothing or baby garments to school," he said.

He asked that clothing contributions be wrapped in paper and that outgrown shoes be tied in pairs so they cannot be separated.

Special police ready to work in any emergency

State and Federal hearing on C&NW rate increase

The Chicago, North Western railroad presented its case Thursday before a joint hearing held by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Illinois Commerce Commission at the Morrison hotel, on its petition for an increase in commuter fare rates.

The joint hearing by State and Federal officials is being held because the same facts are involved in petitions before the two utility boards.

The railroad is seeking a 25% raise in monthly and weekly tickets and 12½% on yearly tickets. Over-all, the proposed increase amounts to 20%. The matter came to the Federal board when the North Western by-passed the local body and filed a petition for an increase in yearly commutation tickets with the Interstate Commission.

IN MARCH, the Illinois Commission filed a motion to dismiss the petition with the Federal board, on ground that the matter was within state jurisdiction, not federal. The Interstate board deferred judgment on this motion and ruled that it would hear the case and then determine if it is within its jurisdiction or not.

At Thursday's hearing, the North Western presented several exhibits indicating the railroad's revenues, costs, and operating procedures. One witness testified that in 1949 the North Western had an operating deficit of $3,178,149. If the proposed increase had been in effect, the revenue derived would have been $920,000, decreasing this deficit to $2,493,149, he said.

Federal Examiner Burton Fuller continued the case to June 6 at the Morrison hotel, at which time cross-examination will begin.

Meet to divide profits

J. D. Bryson, vocational ag instructor at Arlington Heights township high school, met last Saturday in Chicago with the committee on Commercial Exhibits for the Illinois Vocational Association.

Mr. Bryson represented the agriculture teachers in their meeting for the purpose of dividing the profits of recent conferences. Other divisions of the I. V. A. meeting were the Industrial Education group, the Business Education group, and the Homemaking group. Mr. Bryson is chairman of the Publicity Committee for the vocational agriculture teachers.

NEW NEIGHBORS .... IN THE CITY OF GOOD NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wegner
726 N. Belmont

"We drove up one street and down another until we found just the right location for our home," explained young Mrs. Wegner.

The Wegners moved into their attractive brick ranch home February 22 during a big snow storm. They are settled now and happy to be in Arlington Heights.

These folks find that the world gets smaller all the time! They discovered that their next door neighbor's sister-in-law lived next door to them in their former home in northwest Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Max Mayrer, interviewed for this column last January, are their next door neighbors.

The neighborliness of the people in Arlington Heights made these newcomers feel at home right away.

The Wegners have one child, Kathy, who will celebrate her second birthday next month.

Mr. Wegner, employed in the engineering department of Commonwealth Edison, spends his spare time making model airplanes and constructing things for his daughter.

"Keeping house and Kathy" is Mrs. Wegner's full time job.

Mr. and Mrs. John Eugster, Mrs. Wegner's parents, are making their home with the young folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Shubert, S. State rd., Arlington Heights, are close relatives.

"After Linda came we outgrew our 1½ room apartment in Chicago, and then decided to build our own home."

Mr. Hitchcock, salesmanager for City Wide Insulation Co., is a native Chicagoan and Mrs. Hitchcock's home town is Denver, Colo.

"I was an airline stewardess, that is why I came to Chicago," smiled Mrs. Hitchcock. "Didn't meet my husband on the plane, as the stories go," she laughed.

She likes to read, write short stories and ski. Mr. Hitchcock will be "corraled" into this business of making a lawn when the weather once again permits such activity. He is also attending Northwestern

N. Lowry to address Illinois State Academy of Science

Nelson M. Lowry of Palatine, head of the science department at Arlington Heights township high school, will address the members of the Illinois State Academy of Science at their Forty-third Annual meeting on May 5 at Augustana college in Rock Island. Mr. Lowry will speak on the subject "Experiences in Program Modifications in Science."

DAVID KURTZ, high school senior, is one of 15 science students from the high schools of Illinois who have been invited to attend the meeting. David will receive recognition at the dinner meeting Friday evening for his science project, which won honors in the Ninth Annual Science Talent Search for the Westinghouse Science Scholarships.

Arlington Heights township high school has won recognition by educators in recent years for its science program which has been changed from the traditional subject matter type course of study to the selection of materials and courses, which will more adequately meet the social and personal needs of the individual learner. Biology has been shifted from the tenth to the ninth grade and is now a required subject.

A PHYSICAL SCIENCE course has been added for students in the tenth year. Students interested in special science work may select physics or chemistry in their junior or senior years. It is planned to offer additional courses in advanced sciences as the school grows.

The revised curriculum came about as a result of extended studies of the local community and of conferences with parents and students as to the effectiveness of the science program.

Launch third Community Concert drive May 22

Readin', writin' and 'rithmetic are the three fundamental and basic subjects in school. But there is more to life than these so-called fundamental subjects. There is considerable disagreement at times, even among educational experts, as to what should be on our curriculum, but there is one subject about which there is general agreement, and that is music.

TODAY, COMMUNITY Concerts bring to our door a veritable Carnegie Hall and all the great music connected with it. Our young people are given an opportunity to hear and see great artists. This cannot help but have a beneficial effect on people.

For the past two years the Arlington Heights Community Concert Association has brought each year to the people of Arlington Heights and surrounding territory four outstanding concerts, different in content and appeal.

For example, during the winter season of 1948-1949, the following concerts were given to the membership: St. Louis Sinfonietta, Italo Tajo, Baritone, Polyna Stoska, Soprano, and Philharmonica Piano Quartette.

This last winter season included: Mata and Hari, Dance Satirists, Frances Yeend, Soprano, Vronsky and Babin, Piano Team, and Igor Gorin, Baritone.

The third season will be equally outstanding, provided the people of Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights, Palatine and Inverness want these concerts and support them through a membership in the Association.

THE ANNUAL membership drive will be held the week of May 22. It is only during this week that memberships are available; no single admissions are sold to any concert.

Although a large group of workers will make a general canvass of the town and its surrounding towns, memberships may be obtained at headquarters at 11 W. Davis st.

There is no question but that great music by great artists is as necessary to the welfare of the community as right thinking is in government, as good management is in business, and as right living is in lives.

The Arlington Heights Community Concert Association is doing a service of the first rank for its fellow citizens.

Cemetery trustee's son to take father's place on board

Arlington Heights Cemetery Association held its annual meeting Monday night, elected officers and filled the vacancy on the board caused by the death of John Allen, by electing to the board his son, John G. Allen.

Willard Pate, whose term had expired, was re-elected. Other directors are Dr. B. T. Best, C. L. Griffith, Frank Hausam and Geo. Hieber.

Dr. Best was re-elected president for the 17th year and C. L. Griffith, who had been assistant secretary-treasurer, was elected to that office.

In panel discussion

Mrs. Hazel Faulkner, head of the commercial department of Arlington Heights township high school, was a member of a panel discussion group at Northwestern university April 29.

Dr. Albert Freis of the university's department of education invited a select group of educators from the suburban area to participate in a discussion of "Favorite Teaching Techniques." Nearby schools which were represented on the panel are Leyden and New Trier.

First Lighthouse

The first lighthouse erected by the federal government was a sandstone structure built in 1791 on the tip of Cape Henry, Virginia. Still standing today, it served for 90 years before being retired in favor of a taller, iron light.

PTA Northwest Suburban Council to hold final meeting of season May 12

The Northwest Suburban Council of the Parent-Teacher association will have its final meeting of the season May 12, at the village hall of Mount Prospect. Registration will be at 9:30 a. m., call to order by Mrs. Emil Fick of Des Plaines promptly at 10:00 o'clock.

Following the opening song, a message of welcome will be given by Mrs. C. B. Bydall, president of the Mt. Prospect PTA. Presidents of member units will report on the past year's activities and each, in turn, will introduce the newly elected president of her group for the coming year.

Highlight of the morning session will be an address by Ralph Clabaugh, superintendent of Arlington Heights Elementary schools, who has been asked to report on "What Effects the Increased State Aid of the Past Year Has Had on Our Schools.

Following luncheon, there will be music by the Mothersingers of the Council area. At 1:30, roundtable instruction will be offered in the following classifications: parent education, radio and visual education, program and music, presidents and secretaries, treasurers and ways-and-means, publicity, membership and hospitality, health and summer roundup. This will be of special interest to newly elected officers and chairmen.

The last item of business, before adjournment at 2:30, will be installation of the following Council officers for the coming year: Mrs. C. L. Holcomb of Prospect Heights, president; Mrs. Geo. W. Eastland of Des Plaines, vice-president; Mrs. R. V. Morrow of Palatine, secretary; and Mrs. Henry O. Marcy of Park Ridge, treasurer. (B-4

Friend's night observed by Arlington OES chapter

Friend's Night, which was observed by the Arlington Heights OES April 27, was a happy one for all the officers. A fraternal welcome was extended to all by Dorothy and Howard Voss, worthy matron and worthy patron of Arlington Heights chapter.

Guest officers were Laura Krueger and Robert Magden, worthy matron and worthy patron of Glenview chapter in the East. Others were.

Esther Olson, Des Plaines, associate matron; Jim Smaha, Palatine, associate patron; Edna Ebinger, Ben Franklin, secretary; Edmond Schmidt, Walter, treasurer; Lavern Brown, Palatine, conductress; Caroline Dietrich, associate conductress; Jean Elms, P. M. Palatine, chaplain; Eva Arps, Palatine, marshal; Elmer Beckwith, P. P. Des Plaines, organist.

Edith Bunden, Palatine, Adah; Lydia Hausam, P. M. Arlington Heights, Ruth; Bernice Wallace, Edison Park, Esther; Elaine Anderson, Evanston, Martha; Maybelle C. Jasper, P. M. and G. C. C., Electa; Reynold Golterman, Palatine, warder; William L. Milligan, regular, sentinel and Burkitt Davis, color bearer.

The guest officers in the East and Louise Reed, guest of honor, a member of Bensenville chapter, also sister-in-law of Dorothy Voss, were greeted in song by Dorothy Fairbanks, P. M., affiliated with Lounsbury chapter, who served as soloist.

The audience filled the chapter room, an evidence of the fraternal friendship that exists between the surrounding chapters.

Many Grand Chapter committee members were escorted representing eligibility, centennial, cancer control and transportation. There were several worthy matrons and worthy patrons, 18 past matrons and 10 past patrons, many from the local chapter, as well as Glenview, Des Plaines, Palatine, Ben Franklin, Walter and Adelphi. Glenview chapter had 22 members present, including George K. Volz, whom they are proud to own as one of their honorary members. Lovely bouquets of flowers and gifts were given to each officer in the East from the chapter and each officer was remembered with a personal gift from the chapter officers.

Greetings of good cheer were extended to the members who are ill, and special courtesy was extended to Frieda Podzimek and Frances Kraemer, who have been confined to their home for the past several weeks.

It was announced that the worthy matron and worthy patron were to serve in the East at Palatine chapter May 11, a Mother's day program.

Refreshments were served in the dining room by Gertrude Milligan, chairman, and her committee. The table decorations were in charge of Lillian Wolf and a committee.

A dance is contemplated being given by the local chapter soon. The date will be announced in the near future.

What a pack meeting the Arlington Heights Cubs had last Friday night. 116 boys and 150 parents were in attendance, plus 20 adult visitors without boys in cubbing. Den No. 9 won the parent participation contest.

The parents had cubbing explained by Cubmaster Mark Creviston while the boys had inspection under the direction of Richard Bradford, ass't. cubmaster.

The April project was on display, bird houses built by the Cubs. 96 houses of every type of architecture and design were to be found.

The houses were judged by the following gentlemen: Supt. of schools Ralph Clabaugh, Chief of Police C. Herbert Skoog, Pres. of the Lions Club Floyd Burns.

The following boys were declared winners: Hanky Wood, Alvin Popp, Bob Siegel, Rog Rosene, Johnny Peterson, Jimmy Traver.

Cubs in Den 4 were in the color guard. The induction ceremony was by Den 3. Many new boys were inducted and many of the boys already in cubbing were advanced to Wolf, Bear and Lion. Gold and silver arrows were in abundance.

Fred Siegel, project chairman, built kites for the boys so they all understand the May project. A kite contest will be held on May 21.

Bob White, paper drive chairman announced that this Saturday, May 6, will be the pickup date. Householders are urged to see that all bundles are placed on the curb and magazines kept separate. The proceeds will be divided between the Cubs and the Scouts.

Public schools to present free music concert

Students of the Arlington Heights Public schools will present a musical program at the South school auditorium Friday evening, May 5, under the direction of Harold Brunt, music instructor. No charge will be made, but admission will be by ticket only so that the seating capacity will not be overtaxed. Tickets may be secured from members of the band or from members of the vocal and dancing groups participating.

In addition to several numbers by the 85-piece concert band composed of students from both schools, there will be vocal numbers by a group of fifth grade students from the North school and vocal numbers by a combined sixth grade chorus from both schools.

Miss Joan Barry, girls' physical education instructor, will also present a group of fifth graders in a square dance routine learned in physical education classes.

ARLINGTON RUNS AWAY WITH CLASS A IN PALATINE RELAYS

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

We were happy to see Arlington win the Palatine Relays Saturday. Coach Russell Attis has done an excellent job of conditioning his squad. Under bad weather conditions the Cards were standouts and almost doubled the score on the field. We were also glad that Arlington won for the sake of that great little competitor Gordon Busse. Two years ago "Gordie" was a vital factor in Arlington winning the Palatine Relays. It was fitting that along with Busse's individual triumphs Saturday that the team should also win.

Hurdling good in spite of cold weather

In spite of the cold, hurdling was better than at any previous meet. The marks in the other relays were far off the usual standard. For example the winning time in the class "A" two mile relay was a full 20 seconds over the record. The only good relay mark other than the hurdles was Arlington's 1:37 half mile relay. Field events didn't seem to be as much effected by weather conditions as all winning marks were good. However, the pole vault would probably have exceeded 12 feet but for a strong cold East wind the vaulters had to face.

Arlington's sixth in 18 Palatine Relays

Arlington's championship reminds us to mention the fact that it was Arlington's sixth in 18 years with the others coming in 1935, 37, 43, 46, and 48. Naperville with eight titles slumped badly from last year.

Mooseheart stronger than expected

We were sorry that it couldn't have been an Arlington-Palatine combination championship again as it was in 1943. Palatine's boys made an excellent showing and in most respects lived up to expectations. It just so happened that Mooseheart was stronger than expected and that there were no other teams capable of splitting the points to help Palatine win. The Pirates won three of the six relays and took second in two others. You can't ask for much more than that. Coach Welty had his boys in good shape for the meet.

Three disqualifications

There were three disqualifications this year. Naperville and grant lost out in relays by too many false starts and lost chances to run. West Chicago won the 880 yard relay but their lead off man running the fourth lane from a staggered start cut over to the first lane and was ruled out for leaving the assigned lane. In spite of the cold A. G. Haussler, West Aurora principal, got the boys off without delay in the running events as starter and the meet was run off in less time than for several years.

Nangle picks DeKalb to win in 1952

Owen Nangle of the DeKalb Chronicle predicts that DeKalb High will take class "A" in 1952. Most of this year's team was made up of sophomores. They won two relays and scored 32 points. Bolen, a sophomore, put the shot over 47 feet and is a future threat to break the 50 foot meet record.

Wauconda pleased with showing in second year of track

Wauconda must have taken a lot of satisfaction out of finishing fifth among 17 class "B" teams and particularly in beating Barrington who has scored so many onesided athletic victories over the Bulldogs in recent years. Coach Stebbins has done a good job getting track started there in a period of two seasons.

Benefit track meet at Arlington May 26

We understand that on Friday, May 26, there will be a special track meet under lights at Arlington Heights as a benefit for William Creamer and family. Creamer has had to give up teaching and coaching at Arlington due to an illness which has permanently disabled him. In this meet Crystal Lake, Niles, Leyden, Palatine and possibly another school will appear along with the host school.

This is one track meet where every loyal fan of Arlington Hts. should be in attendance.

Coach Wally Grace gambled and lost

When Arlington played at Palatine last Thursday Coach Grace held back his best pitcher because of the cold day and to have a chance to win at Leyden the following day. Palatine knocked out Arlington's starter and won, 6-5, and then the Card's ace was beaten the next night by Leyden, 4-3, under just as bad weather conditions.

Opening games indicate evenly matched baseball in Northwest conference

The Northwest Conference seven game baseball schedule which opened Tuesday proved that competition will be very close this season. Last year Ela and Barrington dominated the situation and, though they have veteran teams returning, the rest of the league is improved to the point where any team might beat any other.

It is too bad that a 14 game schedule is not possible. The coaches wanted it. The principals ruled one round of seven games. Weather conditions this year certainly prove that seven is enough as long as part of the schools are unwilling to extend the schedule into June.

Ela's upset Tuesday will make the schedule more interesting. As soon as Barrington loses, and we expect that to happen, it will be anyone's championship.

Antioch upsets Ela in NW baseball openers

by G. A. McELROY

The Northwest Conference baseball schedule opened Tuesday with Ela's 1949 champions falling in a stunning upset before Antioch's tail enders by a 2-1 score. Barrington opened with a 4-0 win over Northbrook as Shuett pitched three hit ball. Bensenville met stiff opposition, but downed Grant at Fox Lake 5-4. Palatine lost to Wauconda 13-7 in a wild game of walks and errors and few hits.

Eddie Prouty hurled three hit ball for Ela, but Antioch got to him for two hits and two runs in the opening frame and that was good enough to win. Pregenzer allowed only five hits by the slugging Ela team and kept them scattered. Prouty had pitched a no hit 8-0 shutout of Warren last week in a warm up for the league opener but the breaks were against him Tuesday at Antioch.

Hansen's slugging beats Vikings

Ken Shuett's fast ball and George Hansen's big bat led the way to a Barrington 4-0 win over Northbrook in the league opener. Both Shuett and Schmidt who twirled for Northbrook were stingy with hits, each allowing but three safe blows. However George Hansen, Broncho catcher, got two of the three and they included a double and a triple driving in three runs.

Ericksen stars in Bison victory

Ericksen, Bensenville's pitching ace, was four men short of a no-hit game at Grant Tuesday afternoon with two men out in the sixth inning. Then two hits produced a pair of Grant runs and two more in the seventh sent in two more scores.

Fortunately for the Bisons, a big second inning had given them a 4-0 lead and another run for good measure in the first of the seventh proved to be the game clincher.

Palatine errors contribute to opening defeat

Palatine's nine errors were big factors in a 13-7 loss to Wauconda Tuesday. Rick Jarvis, Palatine pitching standout, was out of action with a sore arm which developed in beating Arlington in the cold last Thursday. Sophomore Ken Kolze did a good job on the mound, allowing only six hits, but was given very discouraging fielding support as the Pirates booted nine for errors, plus a few errors of judgment on other plays. The Bulldogs took a 6-0 lead in their first two times at bat and Palatine never could overtake them.

Al Weinberg pitched good ball for the visitors and was relieved by Bob Nolan in the last inning after the game was well under control. Numerous walks accounted for Palatine getting seven runs on but three safe hits. Palatine batteries whiffed 12 times with two boys going down for a total of seven strikeouts in a rather futile batting exhibition.

District baseball play to open next week

by BOB PADDOCK

State baseball tournament begins next week with district and sub-district play opening either Saturday, May 13, or Monday, May 15, for 345 high school baseball squads. Chicago has 38 teams entered while downstate Illinois provides 307.

Arlington will meet St. Charles in the opener, while Palatine takes on Elgin in the elimination trail in Watch City district play. Glenbard meets Bensenville in the Glen Ellyn sub-district. Dundee and Hampshire drew byes at Elgin, while York did the same at Glenbard.

Winners at each site of competition will meet by Saturday, May 20, with sectional competition carried on in seven centers the following week. State finals will be held June 1-2 at Peoria.

THE STATE tourney trail in baseball, like basketball, is a tough one. One-pitcher schools are practically eliminated from chances at the title, for Arlington and Palatine would have to play four contests the first week in order to keep in the running.

Bensenville has a slightly better break with just three victories necessary for the district title. Lack of much spring practice impairs "expert guessing" on the part of sports writers willing to stick their necks out, but most fans don't expect either Heights or Palatine to get very far in the eliminations. Number one pitchers Huffman at Arlington and Jarvis at Palatine are standouts and their coaches will not risk sore arms for just another victory.

EXACT LINEUPS of when local teams will play are not known at this writing. Elgin has a night baseball setup, and local nines may compete under the arcs. Fans wishing to follow their teams are urged to contact the coaches from day to day to gather times of competition.

Redwings to open 33rd season at Recreation Park Sunday

Following their unique physical conditioning policy of playing themselves into condition which has been very successful in past years, the Arlington Redwings will open their 1950 baseball season at 3:00 Sunday afternoon in Recreation Park. Bad weather has made it impossible to hold any organized practice sessions, but this is not a new situation in Redwing history, and the players or Manager Ed Wahl are not alarmed over the situation.

Although the Redwings will be defending their title of Champions of the West Suburban Semi Pro Baseball League in an 18 game league schedule, they will open the season Sunday with a non-league contest against the Chicago Bees, a Chicago Negro team member of the Midwest Semi Pro circuit. This will be the only appearance of a colored team this season. If past performances by Negro clubs are a basis for judging baseball entertainment, this should turn out to be a feature attraction of comedy mixed with baseball.

THE REGULAR league play will open May 14 when the Elmhurst Indians, a new member of the league comes here. By playing an 18 game schedule the Redwings will meet each team 3 times. Local fans will see 15 home games. Three games will be played away. The reason for so many games being played at Arlington is that the ball field is the best in the Chicago area.

July 16 the annual All-Star game will be played here. On that afternoon when the team leading the league will meet an All-Star combination selected from the other teams, George Schaefer will receive a trophy in honor of being selected as the most valuable player during the 1949 season, when he pitched the Redwings to the title.

Although burdened with the emblem of Most Valuable, there have not been any contract difficulties with Schaefer and he again will be the major portion of the pitching staff, literally and physically.

SEVERAL NEWCOMERS will be trying to fill the positions which were considered weak last year, and Sunday's contest with the Chicago Bees will give these boys a chance to show their qualifications. Defensively the team last year was satisfactory, but a lack in hitting power was evident on several occasions. It is hoped that the hitting strength will be improved by one or more of the rookies.

The Redwing in the best pre season condition is veteran Mike Oeflein, famous eagle eye collector of at least 40 years service. He says he is in fine shape and will be ready to hand out the first contribution tag right after the first ball is pitched.

Barrington nine tops Ela and Dundee in pre-league warmups

by EDITH DESORT

A shivering crowd braved the "May" weather Thursday to see Barrington subdue Ela in a non-conference game, 6-5.

The Bronchos were at the tail end, 4-1, going into the third inning when Ela tallied a quartet of runs in the second frame. But Barrington bounced back with a sudden injection of hustle when Dan Osinski doubled to center George Hansen walked, and Beckhart singled to load the bases. Guy Armanetti hit a liner over the center fielder's head scoring all three runners.

Ela copped another run the sixth on Wendt's and Centoni's singles, and Turner's hit. George Hansen hit a triple to left to score the tying and game winning runs the final frame.

Barrington also was victorious in another pre-conference warmup when they edged Dundee 6-5 Osinski accounted for two of the seven Bronc hits, garnering a homer and triple. Hansen and Armanetti both carded doubles.

Rob Roy twilight league opens play

Rob Roy country club twilight golf league started off with a bang this week when the team of Westfall, R. Anderson, Myers and Harth grabbed the lead with 7½ points. Bad weather and wind accounted for the variety of scores ranging from 33 to 73 gross.

Low net was earned by Tom Rowader with 34. Winners of weekly low net prizes were Stan Fell with 35, Rowader with 34, R. Myers with 36 and R. Harth with 36.

Mooseheart tops class B over Pirates by 8

by G. A. McELROY

Arlington Heights and Mooseheart won the Palatine Relays Saturday as 30 teams and 500 athletes braved frigid temperatures to compete in the 18th running of the meet. Arlington Heights far outdistanced the Class "A" field by scoring 62 points while Geneseo with 35½, Libertyville 35, Naperville 33, and DeKalb 31 made good showings, but trailed far in arrears of the Cardinals. Naperville showed field strength, but was weak in the relays and was badly upset by the fast running Arlington boys. Mooseheart's all round strength gave them 56 5/6 points to Palatine's 48 in second place. Princeton was third with 32 followed by Honnegah with 31½. Little Wauconda was fifth with 12 points.

Arlington's victory, their sixth in the Palatine Relays, was won mainly by scoring first in four of the six relay events and first in two individual events. Gordon Busse, who tied his own meet record of 22 feet in the broad jump and ran one tenth of a second from the 100 yard mark in :10.2, contributed 10 individual points. He also anchored winning mile and half mile relay teams with brilliant finishes. Bob Packard ran a fast 100 yards to take fourth in the event.

Table of points

Arlington hurdles set record

Arlington's high hurdle shuttle team of Ronald Anderson, Paul Roche, August Krause, and Warren Lattof smashed the meet record by nine tenths of a second as they scored a :43.8 for the 320 yard event. Libertyville's team of Ray Repmann, Don Boak, Mike Bibby, and Bill Rosing also broke the record with :44.6. The former mark of :44.7 was made by Naperville in 1945 and tied by Libertyville last year. Hurdle marks at both heights and in both classes were the best of the meet.

Both Mooseheart and Palatine broke the 432 yard low hurdle mark of :52.8. Mooseheart's quartet of Harry Childress, Bob Friday, John Carl and Ed Neubauer ran the event in :52.4 while Palatine had :52.5 with John Trenchard, Ralph Sherman, John Waznik, and Paul Loeber hurdling. The old mark was made in 1943 by Palatine.

Arlington's team won the hurdle shuttle relays, the 880 relay, and the mile relay, took fourth in the two mile relay, and third in the frosh-soph relay. Mooseheart took "B" class by winning the two mile and low hurdle relay, taking second in the nigh hurdle shuttle, frosh-soph, and 880 relays, and fifth in the mile relay. They also picked up 5 5/6 points in the morning field events.

Palatine did not score in the individual events, but won the high hurdle shuttle, the mile, and the

Bloomer Girls ball team readies for league opener

The Bloomer Girls baseball team will soon begin outdoor workouts in preparation for their 1950 National Girls League pennant race.

During the past four weeks they've been loosening up inside the gymnasium where their efforts have been somewhat limited.

Manager "Boots" Becker is looking forward to the annual pre-season charity contests which will begin May 16 and run thru May 23 to the season opener May 25, two nights later.

Audrey Wagner, outstanding outfield performer from Bensenville, has already served warning to the rest of the league that she will be a definite threat for league batting honors in 1950.

Miss Wagner was signed last winter by the Bloomer Girls after having performed in the All American League for the past 6 seasons.

Arlington edges Palatine frosh and soph teams

Arlington freshman and sophomore trackmen both edged Palatine in competition last week on the Pirate field. The Height sophs won, 54-50, and the year kings, 52-48.

There was just one grand slam in the soph division when Arlington ran the 100 in :11.1. Palatine took eight out of nine in both the high and low hurdles while Arlington did the same in the 440.

FOR THE FROSH Palatine copped the only grand slam in the high hurdles. Arlington took 3-1 margins in both the 100 and the shot. Palatine could have tied the meet by having two entries in the high jump, as the lone contestant, McAuliffe, jumped 4'6".

Cards run up 7-0 Barrington score

by RON PRELLBERG

The Arlington Cardinals made amends for their previous losses to Palatine and Leyden, Monday, when they pounded out a 7-0 victory on the Barrington Broncho's field. Due to the brilliant twirling of Ray Huffman, the Bronchs were able to account for only six base runners.

Ray with his two hit, seven strike out and two walk pitching allowed only four of these six Barrington base runners to get on while Bob Evans, local third baseman, was responsible for the other two on two errors. In justice to Barrington and Coach Harman the score was only 1-0 at the end of the third when Osinski developed arm trouble, and second stringers were brought in.

Eric Nelson boosted a perfect day at bat for the Cardinals getting two doubles, two bases on balls, and was hit by a pitched ball. Harry Griffith and Ron Thill were the other two Cards who slammed out a double apiece.

IT WAS NOT until the top of the third when the Cards were able to chalk up their first run after two were out. Eddie Kostka and Jim Schwartz were struck out to begin the inning but then Osinski developed his arm trouble and walked three straight men, Ron Thill, Eric Nelson, and Harry Griffith. Thill reached home for the first tally of the game on an infield hit by Ray Huffman but the Cardinal rally was a short one as Leo Jewell brought the inning to a close by grounding out 3rd to 1st.

Due principally to the wildness of Truaxe, Barrington hurler, the Cards made the top of the fifth their big inning by collecting four runs. The inning featured doubles by Thill and Griffith. The Cards then finished out with one in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Palatine nine downs Arlington

Palatine achieved one of their ambitions last Thursday, that of beating Arlington Heights in baseball. Even though Coach Grace did not use his best pitcher against the Pirates they got a lot of satisfaction out of a 6-5 win over their neighboring rivals as the victories in the athletic series between the two schools have been coming to Palatine few and far between.

Rick Jarvis turned on the steam when he needed to and held Arlington to four hits. A shaky first inning when Heights manufactured three runs on three bases on balls and a hit batsman was soon nullified when Palatine tallied five in the second on five bases on balls and hits by Rogers and Jarvis. Palatine scored another run in the sixth when Senne got a double after Dejka had walked and Rogers had singled. Arlington got to Jarvis for half their hits in the seventh to score twice on safe blows by Thill and Nelson. Weather conditions were too bad for a pitcher to bear down with temperatures hovering just above the freezing mark.

Palatine Relays summary

880 relays, and took second in the sawhurdle shuttle and two mile relays. Failure to score in the frosh-soph relay cost Palatine a chance to make it a close meet. Mooseheart took second and fifth in the mile run while Cipri of Palatine got fourth.

Wauconda takes fifth place in meet

Wauconda, one of the smallest schools in the meet got fifth place in a field of 16 teams in their second year of track. Carlson won the mile and they got a fifth in the high hurdle shuttle and the 880 relay and tied for fourth in the frosh-soph relay.

Naperville scored 15 points in the five morning field events, but fell down badly in the relays. Their best was a second in the mile relay and they were shut out of three of six relays. Their by, Erhardt, who won the pole vault the previous year with a height of 12 feet 3 inches, was beaten at 11 feet 3 inches.

Dornburg took the shot again for Naperville's only first place in a disappointing day for the DuPage County school. Geneseo traveled the farthest of any team and arrived first for the meet. The long trip did not hurt their boys for they took second in class "A." Last year they were fourth in class "B."

Bears sign another

The Chicago Bears today announced the signing of another new fullback for the 1950 National Football League campaign. He is Raymond "Ripper" Janaszek, backfield ace of the Dayton University Flyers for the past two seasons.

Janaszek, who is 21 years old, stands 6 feet, 2 inches, and weighs an even 200 pounds. Like many outstanding college gridders of recent years, he hails from Pennsylvania, being a native of Sharpsburg. Janaszek, who ripped off 557 yards in 86 trips with the ball for an average of 6.4 yards per try last fall, was voted Dayton U's most valuable player in 1949. Three other members of the team have been signed by other NFL clubs.

With the signing of Janaszek, the Bears now have added two new fullbacks for next fall, the other being Fred "Curley" Morrison of Ohio State. He is the sixth newcomer signed by George Halas this year. Besides Janaszek and Morrison, the Bears have added Chuck Hunsinger, John "Red" O'Quinn, Bill "Earthquake" Smith and Al Campagna to their 1950 roster.

The Chicago Bears will train again in Indiana!

This will be the seventh straight year for the Bears at St. Joseph's. They first pitched camp at Rensselaer in 1944, and have used the college as a training base ever since. Besides excellent practice fields, fine locker rooms, and a big time field house, St. Joseph's offers the ideal training atmosphere. It is located in an Indiana farming area, less than 100 miles southeast of Chicago.

District golf May 13

Coach Curtis Larsen's Arlington Heights high school golfers take to the state tournament trail May 13 when they compete in district competition at McHenry. Winners will go on to the state meet the following week end.

The five or six boys to compete for Arlington had not been selected as of the early part of this week.

Pirate golfers whip Lake Forest, 15-0

Palatine's golfers maintained an undefeated record by defeating Lake Forest Monday afternoon, 15-0. Both teams found Inverness a tough course, but the Palatine boys easily had the edge in all five matches. Harold Klopp scored 87 to opponent's 97, Shelby Stewart won with a 94 to a 106, Tom Smith's 89 beat a 103, Chuck Briggs carded 91 to an opposing 95, and Chuck James had 96 to a 105.

Last Wednesday Palatine traveled to McHenry and the same five boys played a 7½ to 7½ tie with Coach McCracken's team which included his son, who was low with an 83. The previous week Palatine took nine boys to play York of Elmhurst and the top five, the regulation high school team, won 8½ to 6½.

Wednesday Palatine was due to be host to Leyden and Friday a return match at Lake Forest is scheduled. Next week the Palatine golfers take on Barrington Monday and Friday and Northbrook's conference champs on Wednesday. Next week, Saturday, the boys play in the state district tournament at McHenry. Of the Palatine team Stewart is a senior, Smith and Klopp are sophomores, and Briggs and James are freshmen.

The Inverness Golf Club has generously permitted the team to use their course for all home matches.

'Wabash Avenue' at Starview next week

Betty Grable, Victor Mature and Phil Harris all star in "Wabash Avenue," in technicolor, at the Starview theater Wednesday through Saturday, May 10-13.

Music Maid

Doris Carlson, outstanding Utility infielder for the Music Maids, was born and raised in Des Plaines and will compete against the Elks team May 21.

Arlington nine loses to Leyden

by RON PRELLBERG

Another heart-breaker was dealt the Cardinal varisity nine when three local errors in the bottom of the fifth and one in the sixth allowed a 5-4 count to favor the Eagles of Leyden. This defeat was not only costly as far as the Cardinal record goes but it was injurious in that Wally Brownell, Red Bird regular short stop, was cut from the active list for the duration of the season due to a bad dislocation of his left ankle while attempting to slide safely to second.

Ray Huffman went the distance for the Cards allowing two walks, 10 hits and fanning seven. Tommy Gore, who walked six, struck out four and gave up five hits and Ray Wisher, who walked two, struck out 3, and permitted three runs to pass the plate, were the two hurlers put on the mound by Leyden. The local record to date stands at 5 wins and three defeats.

ARLINGTON got off to a good start the top of the first when a double by Ron Thill, a walk to Harry Griffith and an infield hit by Leo Jewell were combined to give the Cards a 1-0 lead. Leyden came back in the last half of the first on Rich Spera's double and Tommy Gore's single to tie it up a 1 all. Arlington's big inning came in the top of the fourth when the Cards pushed across 3 runs.

Evans led off with a single, Jack Clark batted for Lenny Koelper and both he and Evans were safe when the pitcher threw wild to 2nd. Jim Schwartz then got his first hit of the season, a single to right, that scored Evans to put the Cards ahead 2-1. After Ron Thill and Eric Nelson had struck out, Harry Griffith's walk and Ray Huffman's double, which knocked Gore off the mound, scored Clark and Schwartz with runs number 3 and 4 for the Cards.

Leyden again evened it up in the bottom of the fifth on walks to Gore and Dick Guhl and hits by Frank Blake and Sam Mascia and errors by Evans, Thill, and Griffith. The Eagles won the game in the bottom of the sixth after two were out on a single to right by Don Pelland, his steal of second and Gore's pop up which Schwartz misjudged for a single.

Bisons lose to Bronc runners

Barrington cindermen ground out a convincing 85-32 victory over Bensenville Wednesday with Coach John Trapp's squad making a good showing only in the field events.

Only first for the DuPage school were in the shot and discus with Rasmussen garnering both and high point laurels for the Bisons. He put the shot 39'8", and tossed the discus 113'2".

Barrington garnered grand slams in the 880 and broad jump while Bensenville did the same in the shot put. The winners took first-seconds in the 100, mile, 440, and 220.

Bright light for the losers was the notation that the Bisons hold most of the records in dual competition between the schools over the years. Bensenville holds ten of fourteen records.

OTHER MEETS on the agenda for Coach Trapp's squad include:

Wednesday, May 3: Proviso frosh-sophs vs. Bensenville varsity.

Tuesday, May 9: Northshore frosh-soph invitational at Evanston.

Thursday, May 11: Proviso frosh vs. Bensenville frosh-sophs, there.

Auto racing slated for Aurora Downs May 28

The 4th annual Spring championship auto races, with nationally known stars at the wheel of speedway-type cars, will open the 1950 season of sports events at the beautiful Aurora Downs half-mile track Sunday, May 28.

National Speedways Inc., of Chicago, operators of major state fair and speedway sites from coast to coast, have been signed to supervise the big car events according to the Downs manager.

As has been the custom for the past two years, motor sizes will be limited to 274 cubic inches for conventional motors, similar to the restrictions adopted for the Indianapolis "500".

General admission (including grandstand) will be $1.80, Box Seats 60c additional. Children will be admitted to general admission section for 60c. Parking will be free. Mail orders accepted when accompanied by self-addressed envelope.

Appoint new coach at Libertyville High

Levere Astroth of Hoopeston, Ill., last week accepted an offer to be head athletic coach at Libertyville - Fremont Consolidated High school. He will assume his duties late in the summer and will succeed Robert Steinhebel who has been in Libertyville three years.

Astroth has been football and basketball coach at the Hoopeston High school four years.

Dieber keglers roll in ABC tournament

A sixsome composed of Ken Fuhr, Ed LaBant, Everett Lindgren, Chuck Kleinofen, Ed Wolf and Tom Kouras toured to Columbus, Ohio, and tried their skill in the ABC International Bowling tournament.

The team event was their first endeavor on the alleys, but it was evident the majestic surroundings blinded the awe-struck Arlington Keglers and the team scores remain a secret.

The doubles and singles were bowled the next morning with the following results:

Doubles: Wolf and LaBant, 1121; Fuhr and Lindgren, 1011; Kouras and Kleinofen, 1030.

Singles: Wolf, 505; LaBant, 535; Fuhr, 500; Lindgren, 532; Kouras, 492; Kleinofen, 611.

Andrew Carnegie

To Andrew Carnegie belongs much of the credit for developing integrated steel companies. He was a financier, rather than an operating steelmaker; he envisioned the economy and efficiency of a steel company controlling each step of manufacture from raw materials to finished product. It was this integration of operations which was partly responsible for the United States assuming world leadership in steel production once the bessemer process was introduced in this country.

HOBBIES Yours and Mine

BY BETTY AINSLIE

Come summer, June 13 to June 23 to be exact, the Girl Scouts and Brownie groups will hold their Day Camp at Camp Pine off River rd., in the State Park.

According to Mrs. David Zimmerman of 614 S. Chestnut in Arlington Heights, who is president of the Girl Scout Council, there will be two sessions of 4 days each—one for the Brownies and one for the Girl Scouts. This will be a splendid opportunity for the girls to spend further study on their Proficiency Badges, and a time for the Brownies to learn simple cooking and nature crafts of all sorts.

GIRL SCOUTS and Brownies alike have the fun of playing and working in a group — of learning to be self-reliant and resourceful out of doors, and to develop interests and hobbies that will help to enrich their adult life.

For the very small sum of $2.50 for the 4 days, the girls will be transported by bus to the camp in the morning and will stay until 3 or 4 in the afternoon. They'll learn archery and folk dances of all sorts under competent instructors.

The Girl Scouts will select their own menus and cook their own food so each girl will learn neatness in preparing food as well as lessons in neatness and dress.

But to go back to hobbies. Girl Scouting stresses the outdoor activities, and Proficiency Badges can be obtained by some form of nature study. Under this, girls can be beekeepers, study dairying, be a fruit grower for a year, a home gardener, learn landscaping, raise poultry or rabbits, or do truck gardening.

There are badges for arts and crafts too. If a girl is interested in architecture she may earn a badge in this. She can make baskets, do bookbinding, do coloreraft, learn designing, drawing or painting, study glassware or do interior decoration. In fact there is hardly a hobby that can't be turned into some use by the girls to earn their badges.

"SOME OF THE GIRLS discover a new hobby by simply trying for badges," declared Mrs. Zimmerman. "And some of these hobbies turn into a lifelong pastime for them too."

At the moment Scout troops are preparing overseas bags made of some heavy material. The girls fit these bags with needles, pins, pencils, combs, paper and other things, then they are sent overseas to be distributed by Scout groups over there. Each girl puts her name and address in the bag she makes, hoping the girl who receives it will write to her.

But the Girl Scouts are now stressing the Day Camp and it is hoped that the girls will avail themselves of this opportunity of attending camp this year. Mrs. John Latta is Day Camp chairman and working very hard to plan an interesting program for the girls this year.

So gals if you haven't attended a Day Camp before, try going in June and see what fun camping outdoors can really be.

LOTTIE L. WURRTER — In memory of my wife who passed away 4 years ago, May 5, 1946.

A precious one from me is gone
A voice I loved is stilled
A place is vacant in my home
Which never can be filled.
I cherish you in memory dear
And miss you more each passing year;
Tears dim my eyes as I whisper low,
O Lottie dear, I miss you so.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, Marie Heppner, who passed away one year ago, May 3, 1949.

God knew that you were suffering,
He knew you were in pain,
He knew you never could get well
In this world again;
He saw the road was getting rough,
The hills were hard to climb,
So he closed your weary eyelids,
And whispered, peace be thine.
A loving daughter so true and kind,
No friend on earth like you we find.
For all of us you did your best,
May God grant you eternal rest.

OBITUARIES

Amanda Landmeier

Funeral services were held Sunday for Mrs. Amanda Landmeier, nee Garlisch, of Elk Grove Township, at St. John's Evangelical church, Addison. Rev. E. Bergstraesser officiated. Interment St. John's cemetery.

Mrs. Landmeier was born January 30, 1880, in Palatine. June 14, 1903, she married Albert Landmeier, and the couple moved to a farm in Elk Grove Township on Landmeier rd. As long as she was able she attended church faithfully with her family. For many years Mrs. Landmeier has been a patient in a hospital. She died April 26 at the age of 70.

Survivors include her daughters, Mrs. Emma Mecklenburg of Arlington Heights and Mrs. Nora Riedemann of Des Plaines; three sons, Franklin of Des Plaines, Oscar of Huntley, and Vernon of St. Charles; 15 grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Martha Kranz of Arlington Heights, Mrs. Emilie Landmeier and Mrs. Carrie Landmeier, both of Bensenville, and three brothers, John Garlisch of Arlington Heights, and Julius and Alfred Garlisch, both of Des Plaines.

Her husband and one daughter, Louella, preceded her in death.

Daisy M. Hough

The remains of Mrs. Daisy Mitchell Hough of 424 Banbury rd., Arlington Heights, were shipped to Valhalla, New York, where funeral services were held Monday at 3 p. m. at The Chapel of Kensico Cemetery in Valhalla. Interment Kensico cemetery. Lauterburg and Oehler's funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Hough was born December 4, 1875, in New York City. She formerly lived in Hackensack, New Jersey, and Evanston, Ill. She died April 28 at St. Joseph's hospital.

Survivors include her son, W. Steward Hough of Arlington Heights; two sisters, Mabel Leake and Grace Franbach, and a brother, David Mitchell.

Her husband, Dr. William S. Hough, preceded her in death.

John K. LeMay

Funeral services were held Tuesday for John Kermit LeMay, late of 220 Hi Lusi ave., Mt. Prospect, at Black's Memorial Home at 2 p. m. Rev. E. I. Stevens officiated. Interment Acacia Park cemetery, Chicago.

John was born March 11, 1932, in Chicago. Following his graduation from Arlington Heights high school in 1949, he entered Northwestern university where he was initiated into Triangle fraternity.

He died at St. Francis hospital in Evanston at the age of 18.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit LeMay; two brothers, Robert Charles and Richard Thomas, and two grandmothers, Mrs. Ida Tasker and Mrs. Cora LeMay.

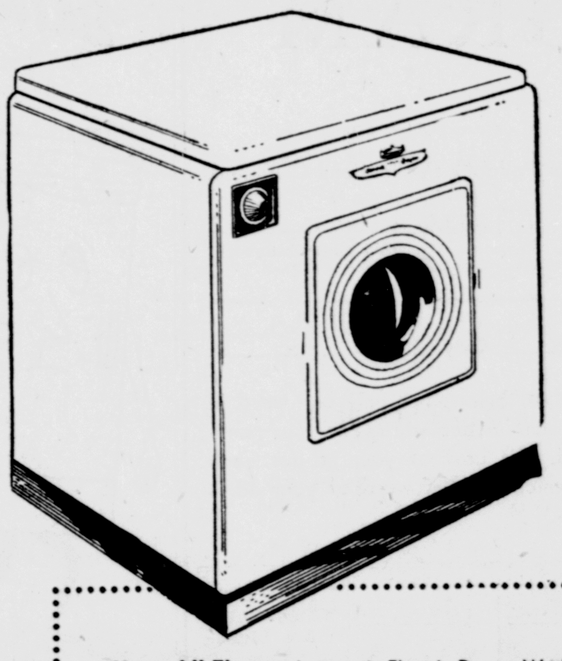
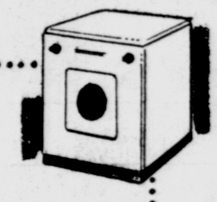
Bendix Automatic Electric Clothes Dryer takes the drudgery out of drying

Say Good-Bye to Work...
Eliminate Weather Worries

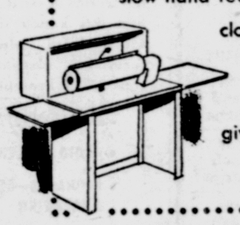
Here's an end to the weary round of putting up clotheslines, carrying out clothespoles, carrying out basketfuls of heavy, wet clothes, stooping countless times to pick up and hang each piece —in chilly, damp weather—or in sultry summer sun.



Now you can wash and dry clothes whenever you like—day or night . . . rain or shine. You simply transfer clothes from washer to your Bendix dryer. Set the dial and, minutes later, take them out dry for storing—or damp for ironing. What could be easier!



Have All Three—Automatic Electric Dryer, Washer, Ironer! Modern automatic washers relieve you of tiresome lifting of wet clothes . . . slow hand feeding clothes into a wringer. In an automatic washer clothes are washed, rinsed and spun . . . while you're in another part of the house. Cut your ironing time in half . . . and double your comfort with modern sit-down ironing. Today's efficient new automatic ironers give clothes the smooth, "professional" look you want.



10% down . . . take up to 24 months to pay the balance with your Service Bill. Ask about the new Bendix Automatic Clothes Dryer and other modern electric laundry aids at your dealer's or our nearest store.

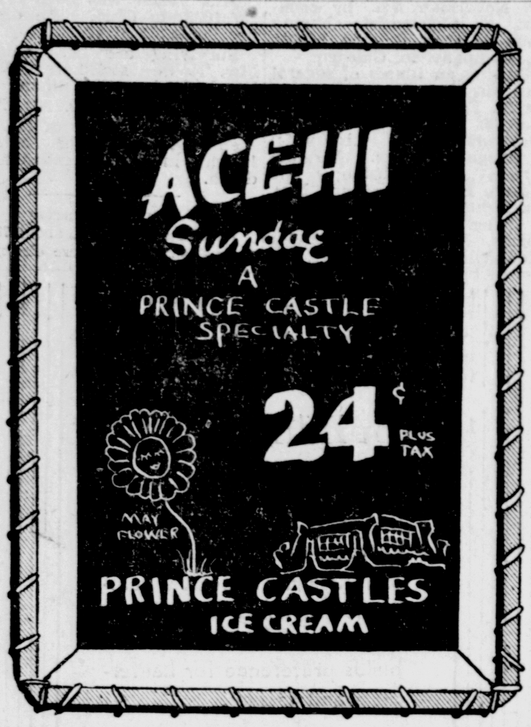
Civil service exams

The U. S Civil Service Commission has announced examinations for filling Mathematician, Chemist, Physicist, and Metallurgist positions n Washington, D. C., and vicinity. An examination has also been announced for the positions of Director of Research and Assistant Director of Research in the General Laboratories of the Philadelphia Quartermaster Depot, Philadelphia, Penn.

The salaries for Mathematician range from $3,825 to $10,000 a year, and for Chemist, Physicist, and Metallurgist, from $4,600 to $10,000. No written test will be required of applicants for these positions. To qualify, they must meet a basic requirement of appropriate education or experience or a combination of education and experience, depending upon the position for which application is made.

Detailed information about the requirements, as well as application forms, may be obtained from the Commission's Arlington Secretary, Francis S. Hall, located at Arlington Heights, from civil- service regional offices, and from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications for Mathematician, Chemist, Physicist, and Metallurgist, will be accepted in the Commission's Washington office until further notice; however, persons who wish to receive early consideration should have their applications on file not later than May 23, 1950.



Seek reservists for O'Hare field duty

To bring the 441st Troop Carrier Wing of the Organized Air Reserve to mobilization strength, Col. J. S. Gulledge, Commanding Officer, announced that airmen will be accepted to fill the following vacancies: 59 Master Sergeants, 158 Technical Sergeants, 151 Staff Sergeants, and 206 Sergeants. Lower enlisted grades will also be brought to full strength.

Local Air Force Reservists now enrolled in the 441st Troop Carrier Wing include: Daniel R Bittner—Capt., 738 S. Highland Ave., Arlington Heights.

The recent cut in military appropriations has not affected pay of Air Force Reservists, according to Col. Gulledge. Regular operations are conducted at O'Hare International Airport on Higgins Road. The 441st Wing serves reservists living in Northern Illinois and Indiana, and nearby points in Wisconsin. Army service is desirable but not essential. Any male 17 years old in good health is eligible to join this Wing.

Applicants are requested to be at O'Hare Airport for personal interview. But each is asked to write a letter in advance, addressed to C. O., 441st T. C. Wing, % M/Sgt. W. M. Horner, O'Hare Field, Park Ridge, Ill., giving his name, address, occupation, and listing previous service, if any.

Juvenile court judge outlines meaning of delinquency

With all the talk going on about juvenile delinquency, many people have suggested that all the terms involved be explained and definitely defined. And who could better do the explaining and defining than Robert Jerome Dunne, judge of the Juvenile Court?

In a handbook prepared primarily for the use of police officers, Judge Dunne has done just that—he's defined delinquency legally and he's told the policemen just what they should and can do to curb it.

First of all, the judge points out that juvenile probation officers and policemen have, by law, certain duties and responsibilities concerning children of juvenile court age. This age is 18 for girls and 17 for boys.

Before they can fulfill these duties, they must know the full statutory definition of a delinquent child. And because parents, teachers and all the members of the community should know what is meant by the term 'delinquent child," this newspaper prints this list. Delinquent children are boys under 17 and girls under 18 who:

(1) violate any laws of the state;
(2) are incorrigible;
(3) knowingly associate with thieves, vicious or immoral persons;
(4) without just cause and without consent of parents, guardian or custodian absent themselves from homes or places of abode;
(5) are growing up in idleness or crime;
(6) knowingly frequent a house of ill repute;
(7) knowingly frequent any policy shop or place where any gaming device is operated;
(8) frequent any saloon or dram shop where intoxicating liquors are sold;
(9) patronize or visit any public pool room or bucket shop;
(10) wander about the streets in the night time without being on any lawful business or lawful occupation;
(11) habitually wander about any railroad yard or tracks, or jump or attempt to jump onto any moving train,
(12) enter any car or engine without lawful authority;
(13) use vile, obscene, vulgar, profane or indecent language in any public place, or about any school house; or
(14) are guilty of indecent or lascivious conduct.

Now this, of course, is pretty clear, especially for legal language, and it is also pretty inclusive. At first reading it would seem to take in many actions by most "normal" children. And that is why Judge Dunne thought it necessary to elaborate on all these important points.

For example, can children over the age of 12 who are arrested for these or other violations be treated as adult criminals? "No," says Judge Dunne. "The spirit of the Juvenile Court act as interpreted (by Dunne) is to extend the benefit of the law to all children of juvenile court age," he says in his handbook.

And may juvenile police probation officers settle cases in the police station without court action? Judge Dunne answers this question by saying: "A juvenile officer shall investigate and follow up cases of delinquency, and adjust such class of cases as the court may direct or permit." He's reading right from the Chicago police rules and regulations there.

In future issues, this paper will explain the types of cases referred to the Juvenile court, answer the question about police officer questioning girls in morals cases, and tell just who can contribute to the dependency or delinquency of children.

In 'Dear Ruth'

The leading man and lady in "Dear Ruth," which will be given this Friday and Saturday night by the Palatine Players, are Don Stephan, as Lt. William Seawright, and Penny Sullivan, as Ruth Williams.

The show will be held at Cutting Hall, Palatine high school, and will begin at 8 p. m. Half of the proceeds will go into the Palatine Library fund.

Popular musical groups at high school in public demand

Music students at the Arlington Heights township high school have proven their ability by bringing home nine first places from the state music contest. Another proof of their remarkable talent is the fact that they are in constant demand for public appearances.

Last Tuesday the Clarinet Trio, French horn quartet and the brass quartet entertained at the Mt. Prospect Woman's club. Tonight, Thursday, Marlene Plant will give a marimba solo and the saxophone quartet will entertain at the Mt. Prospect Parent-Teacher association.

Next Monday evening the extremely popular Madrigal singers will appear in the Fox Valley Music festival in Elgin. Instrumental soloists, Nan McCarty, violin, and Chris Kent, cornet, will entertain the combined Women's groups of the Arlington Heights Methodist and Presbyterian churches next Tuesday.

Both solo and group numbers will be featured as entertainment at the Dorcas Aid dinner at St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, Tuesday evening. Students doing solo work are: Peggy Bryson, French horn, Marlene Plant, marimba, and Chris Kent, cornet. The clarinet trio, composed of June Rindlisbacher, Marjorie Bierwirth, and Richard Hull, will also appear.

Seeing Eye workers in meeting in city

The dramatic beginnings of the Seeing Eye, were told Tuesday at the second report meeting of the 1950 Seeing Eye membership enrollment by Colonel Walter A. Wood, son of the late Mrs. Dorothy H. Eustis, founder of the Morristown, New Jersey school.

It was in 1929 that Mrs. Eustis, a native of Philadelphia who had long studied the potentialities of canine service to mankind, founded the now famous school for Seeing Eye dogs, their instructors and their sightless masters and mistresses. Mrs. Eustis had lived abroad for several years in order to investigate the working dogs of Europe and to develop a strain of dogs who by their intelligence, stamina and character, would be particularly well adapted to the performance of various tasks. It was in the course of this research, conducted at Vevey, Switzerland, that Mrs. Eustis realized the valuable service that "man's best friend" could render as a guide to blind persons. She returned to America to organize The Seeing Eye and to serve as its first president.

Tuesday's meeting marked the halfway point in the 1950 Seeing Eye enrollment. Team chairmen for the enrollment reported to Mrs. Charles D. Preston, chairman, on the progress of their workers in securing new members. Serving with Mrs. Preston in Palatine are Mrs. W. C. Martinson, Mrs. Warren Leavitt and Mrs. Arthur T. McIntosh, Jr.

Fairhope Farms Home Bureau news

The Fairhope Farms Home Bureau Unit met at the home of Mrs. Walter Bendler March 27, at 8 p. m., with 17 members attending. Mrs. Floyd Easterman served as co-hostess for the evening.

Major lesson, "Care and Repair of Furniture," was presented by Mrs. John Mecklenberg and Mrs. Roy Cristie. The leaders gave an excellent lesson demonstrating how to shampoo and care for furniture and upholstering. The local leaders also pointed out that "we should enjoy our furniture, but at the same time, give it a break by giving it good care."

Nine members of the unit have completed three hat lessons being given by Mrs. Foster Beeson. The enthusiasm for this project has been high and as a result some members have made more than one hat.

April 24, 23 members and 11 guests of the Fairhope Farm Home Bureau Unit met at the home of Mrs. Arthur Leonard for a special activity meeting and guest nite. The very damp Monday evening was spent playing bunco and reviewing the popular dessert lesson given a year ago. Mrs. John Rill, Mrs. Erwin Behrens, Mrs. Edgar Jaffe and Mrs. Arthur Leonard were in charge of the food preparations. May 17 and 18 seven members of the unit will be making the Tour of Tulip Time in Holland, Mich.

May 22, 8 p. m., the unit will meet at the home of Mrs. Clarence Petersen, Oakton st. The major lesson to be given by the Home Adviser will be, "How to Attain Ease and Charm as an Adult."

Origin of "Academy"

One mile north of ancient Athens in the Grove of Academus, Plato taught school—and thus gave us the word academy.

Public to receive gas and electricity bills via postcard

Beginning this month, local residents will receive their gas and electric bills by postal card in place of the present envelope-enclosed bill form, it was announced by M. H. Schreiber, district superintendent for the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois.

Change to the new postal card bill—designed to help offset a continuing rise in operating costs—was authorized recently by the Illinois Commerce Commission. Use of the new postal card follows a schedule revamping of the automatic billing machines which print the monthly service bills. Schreiber said the new type bills would go to all residential and most commercial gas and electric users.

As of last month, the Public Service Company was serving about 450,000 electric and 230,000 gas customers in 350 northern Illinois communities across a 6200 square mile area. All but about 5,000 of these were classed as residential, rural, or small commercial users. The change to postal card bills for these groups of customers will reduce billing costs by a substantial amount annually, Schreiber said.

"It is another move in our continuing program of economy to help offset rising operating costs," he said, "and is necessary if we are to keep on giving the best service possible at the lowest rates possible."

It is estimated that over twelve million postal card bills for utility services are now being issued in the United States and the number is increasing steadily. In addition, many municipalities are sending water bills on a postal card form.

'Dear Ruth' at Cutting hall, Palatine, this Friday and Saturday

That pounding and hammering earfier in the week at the Palatine high school was not a repair force, but the enthusiastic crew of Gil Valentine, stage manager for the Palatine Players' getting the setting ready for the production of "Dear Ruth."

John Press, in charge of lighting and Tom Warner, sound technician, were on hand to get their departments in shape.

Helen Scharninghousen is business manager and others assisting with the production in various departments are Hazel Valentine, Maxine Press, Mary Johnson, Gertrude Thieme, Dorothy Connon, Patricia Eliott, Cleo Warner, Shirley Godknecht, Bob Johnson, Dick Winkler and Irene Mueller.

The director, Dorothy Wearing, says final rehearsals warrant predictions for a smooth and expert performance. The cast includes Grace Norton, Madeliene Hohenhorst, Sandra Springwell, Werner Warnholtz, Penny Sullivan, Don Stephan, Bob Wadington, Dorothee Godbarsen, Jack Johnston and Floyd Barloga.

This bright comedy by Norman Krasna is to be given on the evenings of May 5 and 6 at Cutting hall, Palatine high school. Tickets may be obtained from the Players or at the Palatine Drug Store and Fischer's Food Store. Two sets of tickets are to be given away as door prizes, the recipients of which will be admitted to the fall production.

Fifty percent of the net profits are to be donated to the Palatine Public Library.

Well drillers recognize test pump invented by Fowler and Soeberg

G. W. Fowler, 58 and State road, Arlington Heights, with his partner, Arnold Soeberg, are receiving inquiries from well drillers throughout the country regarding the Scocrist test pump weighing only 74 pounds that can be lowered in the well casing to any level for testing purposes.

The pump is now going into manufacture. Mr. Fowler has used it on his own well jobs the past 12 months, and says it is a time saver and cuts testing operations by many dollars.

Holly Berries

When seeds of the American holly sprout, only about one-tenth produce female trees. Only female trees produce berries. They produce only if late frosts, heavy rains, or other adverse conditions haven't prevented pollination of flowers. Thus, although holly leaves may be plentiful, holly berries may be scarce.

Triumph of Anatomic Design

the newest most glamorous car in America!

*ANATOMIC DESIGN — (Ana-TOM-ic) — is the newest, most advanced step in motor car making. It is the principle of engineering the anatomy of the car, every feature of the body and chassis, to suit the needs of human anatomy in a way never before achieved. It results in a car that is easier to control, more comfortable, safer for you and your family to ride in.

AND HERE IT IS . . . the first car in America built from roadline to roofline on the principle of Anatomic Design! A car that's at least two years ahead with everything you've ever wanted most in motoring!

LIKE RIDING "OUTDOORS"! Largest windshield in any car! Corner posts, slimmest in any car, slanted back out of your vision . . . no "blind spots"! Back window larger than most windshields!

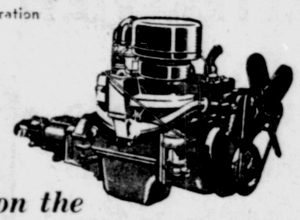
MOST ROOM EVER! Low as cars come; yet there's full road clearance! High-Bridge Doors offer more entrance room than in many taller cars! Single-Roll Body provides almost the widest seats of any! Amazing head room and leg room, too! And luggage space galore, because spare tire is under the luggage compartment instead of in it!

EASIEST RIDE ON THE ROAD! A Level-Flight Ride . . . because exclusive spring suspension and high-line fenders allow space for springs to take up shock! Front seat adjusts to your size for effortless driving . . . hand brake is handy at the right!

HERE'S SUPER-SAFETY! Road-hugging lower center of gravity lets Kaiser take curves faster, safer! Truline Centerpoint Steering, self-recovering on sharpest curves, enhances control! Oversized jumbo brakes make stopping surer, swifter!

VALUE THAT HOLDS UP! Years-ahead newness and economy of operation save you money and assure lasting protection for your investment.

NEW 115 H.P. KAISER SUPERSONIC HIGH-TORQUE ENGINE gives you faster acceleration; less vibration with higher compression, quieter, smoother performance at lowest or highest speeds; more driving power per horsepower, lower gas and oil consumption. Instant obedience and sureness of control help make the '51 Kaiser a safer, sweeter-handling car.



Built to Better the Best on the Road!

At DePaul

The DePaul University A Cappella choir will present its annual Spring concert Friday, May 5 at 8:30 p. m. in Thorne Hall, Lake Shore dr. at Superior.

Under the direction of Arthur C. Becker, dean of the DePaul school of music, the choir will present "The Peaceable Kingdom" by Randall Thompson, a sequence of sacred choruses with text from the Prophecy of Isaiah. Also included in the program will be compositions by Palestrina, Hasler, Pearsall, Tschaikowsky, Bach, Skinner, Noble Cain, Gaul, Dett and Jenkins.

The newly organized DePaul Singers will present an Irish air, a Negro folk song and a composition by Olds.

Mildred Smeby, 108 S. Albert, Mount Prospect, is a member of the choir.

At Stephens

Miss Ruth Greener of Arlington Heights has won third place in the five gaited advanced class at the 16th annual horse show sponsored by the Prince of Wales Club at Stephens College here last week. Miss Greener was riding Mr. Hush and was judged on horsemanship only. She was awarded a ribbon for her skill indicated in the class.

The show, which has been an annual affair since 1934, was presented before a capacity crowd in the Stephens College arena.

Miss Greener is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ariel J. Greener of 400 East Park Street.

At Illinois

One hundred fifty-six University of Illinois students, including one from Arlington Heights, will be named to the top-ranking "Bronze Tablet" group on Honors Day, May 5, when 2,500 will be cited for high scholastic achievement.

Among those listed in the Bronze Tablet group is Albert Joseph Kuhn, Arlington Heights.

Names of the 156 will be inscribed on bronze plaques which will be located permanently in the University library with Bronze Tablet names of other years. The list includes candidates for degrees June 18 and others who have completed graduation requirements since last June.

At Indiana

Kenneth D. Greenfield, R. R. 1, Palatine, was honored as Indiana University marked its 130th anniversary Wednesday with traditional Founders Day Ceremonies on the Bloomington campus.

As a part of the Founders Day ceremonies, the annual pilgrimage to the grave of Andrew Wylie, first president of the University, was conducted. University officials and student leaders also paid homage at the grave of Amzi Atwater, an early vice president of I. U., and visited the site of the University's first building, no longer standing, on what is now the location of Bloomington High School.

At Southern California

Recognition won by University of Southern California students recently included:

Francis Howard Oefelein, a former Arlington Heights resident and graduate of Arlington Heights High School, has been announced as a newly initiated member of the SC chapter of Pi Epsilon Tau, national honorary petroleum engineering fraternity. A senior student in the SC School of Engineering, Oefelein is a resident of Long Beach, California, and is also a member of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

At Navy Pier

Richard Jahn, 4 Pine ave., Arlington Heights, will be recognized for outstanding scholarship at the Chicago Undergraduate Division of the University of Illinois at Navy Pier in a special "Honors Day" program Friday ,May 12, at 10:15 a. m. in the Pier auditorium.

To be eligible for honors, a student must rank in the upper 10 percent of his college class.

At Illinois

The following Arlington Hts. township high school students are to receive special honors at the University of Illinois Honors Day program May 5, at 10:15 a. m. The university takes this occasion to give public recognition to those students whose scholarship ranks them in the first ten per cent of their class.

Class honors are awarded those students ranking in the upper ten per cent of their classes the first two semesters immediately preceding the current semester with the exception of freshmen, whose recognition is based on first semester work. College honors are awarded to those students whose grades rank them in the upper three per cent and college and university honors are awarded those students whose grades have given them college honors twice.

According to LeRoy J. Knoeppel, principal, college honors will be awarded to Jane Lois Merrill, class honors to Vernon H. Rascher, Robert R. Smeby, Wayne F. Thompson. Jane Merrill and Robert Smeby are juniors, Vernon Rascher and Wayne Thompson are sophomores at the university.

At Illinois

Two alumni of Palatine High School are among students at the University of Illinois winning scholastic honors according to a report from the University. At a special Honors Day program on May 5 Donald Bahr, a senior, and Russell DuBois, a junior will be awarded Class Honors for ranking in the upper 10% of their class.

Both graduated from Palatine High in the class of 1945 where Bahr ranked sixth in a class of 51 and DuBois ranked twelfth.

In North Carolina

Capt. Edward L. Bird of Arlington Heights, son of Mrs. A. E. Lee of 830 Fairview st., is among approximately 4,000 troops of V Corps and its attached units participating in the biggest air-ground maneuver in history—"Exercise Swarmer."

"Swarmer," commanded by Lt. Gen. Lauris Norstad of the U. S. Air Force, is planned on a major scale and its scope is well in advance of anything hitherto attempted in war or peace. Total personnel engaging in the maneuver will approach 60,000, including men from every state in the Union.

At Bradley

The student body at Bradley College has elected Alice Barloga of Palanois Park to the Student Council.

Honor former Heights man for service with metal fabricating group

Handy and Harman, refiners and fabricators of precious metals, honored their president, G. H. Niemeyer, Monday at a ceremony commemorating his fiftieth anniversary with the company.

J. C. Travis, vice-president of Handy and Harman, acting for the entire company, presented Mr. Niemeyer with a handwrought gold cigar box, lined in mother of pearl with a portrait medallion of his head on the cover, "in recognition of his vision and leadership."

Mr. Niemeyer joined the company as an office boy on May 1, 1900. He became Handy and Harman's first salesman in 1902 and traveled for the firm until 1915 when he was appointed manager of the New York plant, then sales manager and later vice president in charge of sales. In 1938 he became president.

Mr. Niemeyer was born in Illinois and lived in Arlington Heights when he was 16 years old and had his first job in business at Carson, Pirie & Co., Chicago.

Air force tells opportunities for high school graduates

High school graduates who volunteer and are accepted by the United States Air Force will have many opportunities to continue their education, M Sgt. R. H. Trufant, U. S. Army & U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, 2001 W. Irving Park rd., Chicago, announced.

The Air Force is placing emphasis upon educational standards, the Sergeant explained, because so much of its work calls for highly developed skills and above-average intelligence.

Air Force recruits have an opportunity to obtain academic instruction, M Sgt Trufant said, in at least three ways:

1. Taking correspondence courses under supervision of the United States Armed Forces Institute.
2. Attending classes at nearby colleges during off-duty hours.
3. Taking part in group instruction classes at Air Force bases.

In all three methods, M Sgt Trufant said, the Air Force pays a substantial part of the cost.

Sickness and death costs were cheap in the 1880's

The editor of Way-Back-When has become so enthralled with additional chapters that appear in the "Life and Times of Dr. John E. Best," that the installments will continue a few more weeks.

This week's chapter covers the prevalence of malaria and the use of quinine which was a common ailment on the majority of farms. Many illnesses were caused by contamination from the shallow wells of the 1880s. Those were the days before the public became health conscious. The family physician was almost alone in his battle for better health.

The public did not seem to realize that sickness and death were expensive. This series is being published through the courtesy of Dr. B. T. Best, son of Dr. John E. Best.

"Certain disesase that were common in the last century, in the northern states at least are of very infrequent occurrence. Their elimination has been accomplished by an understanding of their causes and modes of transmission, the education of the public, and the efficiency of state and local boards of health.

"This was not accomplished in a short time. It took years of painstaking effort to make the public realize that sickness and death were expensive, that much of it was avoidable, and that a broad health plan, vigorously carried out, could do away with much of this waste.

"It was a great step forward when the majority of people were made to realize that no individual through his own selfishness had the right to distribute contagious diseases to other people's children. Some of that idea still continues to this day, but public sentiment is overwhelmingly against it and the matter is easily handled.

"IN THE LAST CENTURY it was entirely different. The doctor was the only person in the community doing this missionary work, and he was in the queer position of promulgating something that would inevitably injure his own business, and this was not understandable to a certain kind of mind. No state board literature, no county tuberculosis institute and no community nurse assisted him in this crusade. Truly he was 'a voice crying in the wilderness.'

"One of these old time diseases was malaria. There are many places in the United States where it is still rampant, but in northern Illinois there has not been much malaria for many years due to the draining of the sloughs which occupied so much of the prairie, with the consequent reduction of the mosquito population.

"UP TO ABOUT 1885 it was common practice for a farmer working in the field to glance up at the sun and observe that it was nearly time for him to have his chill, whereupon he would repair to the house, go to bed and shake with an intense chill for three or four hours, getting relief when his fever reached 104 or 105. The next day he would feel all right and do his work, repeating the performance on the following day. In case some of the other working members of the family were likewise afflicted it was considered fortunate if their chills occurred on separate days because it did not then interefere so seriously with the farm work.

"Quinine, then as now, was the mainstay in the treatment of malaria, and families living near ponds or sloughs were in the habit of dosing themselves with it. If they had liver involvement and became jaundiced they added calomel. There being no radio and no aspirin then, no sweet-voiced announcer advised them to use that. This home medication was such a common thing that they kept the quinine and calomel on the dining table along with the salt and pepper. If the 'chills and fever' didn't stop after a decent interval they sometimes sent for a doctor.

"DR. JOHN E. BEST had observed that the quinine given after the chill had commenced, or later on the same day or the next day, did no good at all. Also he observed that if it was given an hour before the chill began, the severity of the attack was lessened, and if this procedure was repeated on the days when the chills were due, it took only a few treatments to cure the disease.

"As this had been his standard treatment for some time previous to 1880 when the malarial parasite was discovered, much credit should be given his observational ability. It was a long time after this before it was found that the parasite entered the blood through the bite of a female mosquito.

"MENTION WAS MADE of 1885 as the year in which malaria ceased in our district. At the time it was a mystery, but in the light of present knowledge it is no longer a mystery. In that year there was a very severe drough lasting practically all summer and the mosquitos must have all died. In after years as they again became numerous, they had no way of getting the malarial parasites from the blood of patients as no one had it then.

"A few words about the administration of quinine. Those who kept it on the table simply mixed it with black coffee and swallowed it, the resultant shuddering nearly equalling that of the malarial chill. But there was an esthetic way of administering it to pay patients. A wafer made of rice flour was moistened and laid in a tablespoon and a half-teaspoonful or so of quinine was placed in its center and the corners neatly folded over into a small package, then a gulp of water and down it went, tastelessly, unless the wafer broke.

"Capsules had not yet been invented. The reader may accept this information as authentic as the writer was raised on Quinine bi-sulph., Tr. Ferri chlor. and occasionally a dose of Mist. Rhei et Sodae was thrown in for some purpose, probably punitive. There were giants in those days.'

"ANOTHER DISEASE of the period was a severe form of diarrhea affecting babies, usually in their second summer. It had various names as cholera, infantum, dysentery and bloody flux, and many babies succumbed to it. Its mode of transmission was through the infected drinking water of surface wells and thru the contamination of flies on food. My father did not live long enough to see this disease exterminated, but within the next few years after his death it completely disappeared in this locality owing to the drilling of deep wells penetrating to the underlying sedimenary rock, and the universal use of fly screens on doors, windows and baby buggies."

In the future

Absent-minded lawn waterers, who set sprinklers going and then forget about them, can be as forgetful as they want with a new automatic water timer. The gadget shuts off the flow whenever a pre-determined quantity has run off . . . For night-time fishing fans there's a special one-cell flashlight that attaches to the rod, goes on when a fish starts tugging at the hook . . . A vacuum cleaner made especially for automobiles fits right in the glove compartment. It operates on the vacuum developed bythe motor . . . Cutting down Papa's pants for Junior? A new transparent marking guide makes it easy to give him cuffs as neat as his father's.

● WEATHER AND WATER

The freshet that hit this area a short time ago brought worse flood conditions than this part of the country has ever seen before.

Bill Schilling of Palatine came in one day and said he'd been over around North Lake and that the conditions he found there made him appreciate Palatine.

Sure there was plenty of water around here too, but no one has reported having to use a boat to get out of his house, and when we compare this area with a host of others we can be like Bill and appreciate the place we live in.

● LATE CROPS

The farmers are the worst hit by the conditions. It is so late that many of them have given up the idea of trying to plant any grain, and those who have managed to get a little planted don't expect it to amount to much after the beating rains packed the ground until it resembled a floor.

Fred Meyer said he hadn't been able to do anything with his land yet and that it was now too late for small grain. The only things left were corn and beans and he expected to find the bean seed hard to get with everyone getting the same idea and rushing to plant beans on their grain land if the weather ever does get around to letting a farmer do anything.

● A CHANGE AT LAST

We know beyond any doubt that this is the worst spring in history. G. A. McElroy has even lost his rabbit's foot that for years has enabled him to produce some fine spring weather for the Palatine relays. But not this time—it was cold and disagreeable and yet some new records were set.

But the interesting thing is that for many years past, no matter what sort of weather we had up to that day, relay day would turn out to be a fine spring day—the official opening of real spring weather usually.

But Mac's rabbit's foot must have been lost this year, but even then the weather wasn't as bad as the official forecast for the day.

● ONE VIEWPOINT

And speaking about the track meet recalls the opinion of it that we heard expressed by a farmer Saturday morning after he got down town after having passed the high school field.

"It makes me boil to see those boys running around naked up there," was his comment and then he added "and some of the rest of us have to pretty near go naked to pay for it all."

He did not know that the relays are self supporting.

● WHERE IT GOES

And then later in the day we talked with another fellow from the rural area and he felt different.

This fellow pulled a little book out of his pocket and in it he had the breakdown of his tax bill, just how much actual cash he was paying to each taxing body.

His bill was somewhere around $109 and the big bulk of it over 75% was for schools which was all right with him as he realized it would cost him several times what he was paying in school taxes if he had to pay what it actually cost per pupil to educate his children.

Then he pointed to the road and bridge item, $4.07 for that service. "And let's see—what do I get," he mused—"road graveled and graded, weeds cut, snow plowed in winter, all for $4.07—not bad, not bad."

No he wasn't kicking about the service he was getting from the schools, the road commissioner or any other taxing unit, in fact he wasn't kicking about anything. He'd figured out his tax breakdown and decided that everything was all right and that he was getting his money's worth, and if anyone tried to talk tax protest to him he just didn't have time to listen.

● SAME PLACE

Many people seem to have had the idea for a long time that the personal property tax is some kind of a side graft for the politicians, but it isn't.

Without going into the merits or demerits of the personal property tax, the money received from that tax is distributed in the same manner and in the same proportions as the real estate tax.

A big delinquency in personal property collections means simply that the schools and all other taxing units find themselves just that much in the hole.

Some way to do away with the personal property tax has been studied for a long time. Several years ago a bill was introduced at Springfield for a state income tax that would take the place of the personal property tax, but this was defeated by the powerful lobby of the farm organizations.

And still the farmers are among those that get "soaked" the worst by the personal property tax.

66,000 personal property tax bills were sent out by the Cook County township collectors. Over 2,000 of them were in Palatine township, between 1700 and 1800 in Wheeling township and between 700 and 800 in Elk Grove township. Less than 1800 bills were sent out in Bloom township with a population of 40,000 and the collector complained that he had too many at that figure.

The city of Chicago only sent out 70,000 personal property bills.

● PRIMARY AMENS

What did the recent primary in the country towns of Cook county presage?

For one thing, it showed some interesting sidelights on what may happen this fall. The Republican vote was surprisingly heavy in the country towns which should mean a correspondingly heavier vote in November.

In some of the North Shore towns where voting has been extremely light and where it has been hard to get out the votes, the primary vote showed a lot of surprises by the size of the total registered vote.

A continuation of the heavy voting in November as forecast by the primary vote indicates a heavy Republican sweep in the country towns this fall, with the GOP standing a chance to keep the gains they made in county offices four years ago if the political differences of the warring factions can be reconciled and the party goes forward as a united team.

One thing is certain, the GOP has got to have united team work to hold the gains of four years ago, because they are going to be up against real team work in the Democratic organization bossed by that past master of them all, Jake Arvey.

But from the GOP vote in the primary where Republicans are notoriously light voters, it looks as if the boys might give Jake's team a run for the roses in November.

● WRONG END

If there is any part of the government that the people know something about and appreciate the service it gives, it's the postal department.

The public in general is more familiar with the workings of the postal department than any other branch of the government, because it is closest to them and they see and are benefited by its service every day in the year.

And yet when the government gets an economy brain storm it starts to cut down on the postal department and the service which it gives to the public.

To a lot of people this looks like starting to save money at the wrong end of the line. Rather than cripple the postal department and deprive the public of a real government service to say nothing of jumping on the little guy and cutting down or firing a lot of folks who are underpaid anyway, why not start at the other end and cut down on some of the "feed trough" pork barrels such as lopping off some of those millions we are handing to the British so that they can finance their noble experiment in socialism and ultimately drag us down to their level.

Let's have some economy where it will do some good and benefit the American taxpayer the most, not start at the wrong end where it cuts down on an essential service to the public and a service that is a lot more appreciated by the American taxpayer than are those "billions for Britain."

● RED WING OPENER

The Arlington Red Wings are scheduled to open the 1950 season at Recreation park this coming Sunday we are told.

Well, since all other efforts to get spring back to this country have failed, maybe the Red Wings can do the trick and dish up some decent weather.

A few years ago the Red Wings were delayed for about a month in their opening plans by cold rainy weather, about like the weather we've had this year but after the sort of spring we've had the "Wings" ought to be due for a good opener.

From now on until fall there will be plenty of baseball at Recreation park—all kinds of it, good, bad, sensational, dumb and everything that goes to make baseball the great it is.

You baseball fans won't want to be anywhere else on Sunday afternoons from now on but down there at Recreation park in Arlington Heights watching those unpredictable Red Wings perform.

We have it from announcer Slim Davis that weather permitting, come Sunday, the season will be on.

ZONING CODE

Attached to this letter please find a resolution adopted by the Northwest Community Betterment Group of Arlington Heights at our regular meeting held in the village hall on April 4, 1950.

The resolution seems to be self-explanatory.

We realize that some action has been taken by the Board of Trustees of the Village of Arlington Heights since April 4, 1950. We are hopeful that additional effort is made to modernize our zoning ordinances.

W. Frank Menzel
President
Arlington Heights

WHEREAS, deficiencies in the zoning ordinance adopted August 29, 1927, as amended, were called to the attention of the President and the Board of Trustees of the Village of Arlington Heights in 1948, at the time this association objected to the illegal issuance of temporary permits for prefabricated houses at the interesection of Wilke Road and Northwest Highway, and

WHEREAS, no action has been taken to revise and modernize the zoning ordinances on a broad basis, except the action taken by the village board in October, 1949, when it authorized its president to appoint an advisory committee of five members to study the problem and assist in formulating a new zoning code, and

WHEREAS, five months have elapsed and the appointment of the members of the advisory committee has not been announced, and no improvement of the zoning code to meet current needs has been accomplished, now therefore

BE IT RESOLVED that we hereby memorialize the president and the board of trustees of the Village of Arlington Heights to forthwith appoint an advisory committee to study the existing zoning ordinances and make recommendations for revision of the zoning code and the technical aid necessary to enact a new code.

EASTWOOD NEIGHBORS

Inasmuch as we in Eastwood have held the opinion that you and your paper were in favor of fair play imagine our amazement upon reading your first page article of the 28th inst. in the Arlington Heights Herald, relating to our petition for the completion of paving on North Dryden Avenue.

We are at a loss to understand your statement, "It is Eastwood this time who objects to new neighbors." This is a slur upon our collective character and our attitude is not as you so erroneously portray! We, on the west side of North Dryden Ave. have paid for our one-half of the paving—we simply plead that whoever builds or buys on the east side of North Dryden Ave. should do likewise, which is right and proper. Spot paving would be hazardous for everyone and detrimental to the village as a whole.

Now, we ask that you print a retraction of the objectionable parts of your article in fairness to all concerned.

POSTAL SERVICE

Honorable Scott W. Lucas
United States Senator
Washington D. C.

It appears that there is some indication that insufficient funds may be appropriated for continuation of post office services, according to news releases.

My purpose of addressing this communication to you, is to urge your support for necessary funds to at least maintain postal service equal to that which exists at the present time.

In many communities, particularly in the suburban areas, there are frequent complaints that service should be improved. I believe that we are fortunate in this community that we are receiving excellent service, but I am also confident that any curtailment of such service would result in many objections. We trust you will use your influence to at least maintain present service standards by providing necessary funds in the appropriation.

Forrest F. Davis
Village Clerk
Arlington Heights

Mr. Forrest F. Davis
107 West Davis St.,
Arlington Heights, Ill.

This will acknowledge your communication of recent date, with respect to the recent order of the Postmaster General curtailing mail service. I regret that I cannot give you a personal reply, but the volume of mail I am receiving on this and other subjects makes this impossible.

I have received numerous complaints along the line of yours and am filing them with the Postmaster General in an effort to be helpful in having service restored.

FIRST DEATH

So the "Grim Reaper" has already struck at the 49'ers! Not even one year has passed since graduation day and already one of our classmates, John K. LeMay, lies dead!

When we think back to our high school days and remember all our classmates, we can't help but wonder why it had to be Jack. Jack was such a quiet, likeable lad, such a good citizen, so sincere in all his efforst, but perhaps we remember him best for his shy, friendly smile and the quick way he would have of blushing. Jack loved science and loved a good game of golf.

No matter what Jack was asked to do, he would never complain. He was never forward, and in his shyness, he was so eager to help anybody.

Jack's accident was a terrible shock to us all. Let's not let Jack die in vain. Let's let Jack's death stand as a symboi to all of us that we can't be overly cautious in driving on the highways. We are sure if Jack could give us a message today, it would be "please, kids, stop! Look and Listen!"

In memory of our fellow classmate, whose short life was so exemplary in the highest ethics and standards of life, in respect to Jack LeMay, let's be more careful along life's highway!

"The 49'ers"
Arlington Heights.

LONGEVITY

Of course we are all interested in longevity (personally and individually). Many years ago I won a spelling bee when assigned that word. I can still spell it, and hope to apply it so some day people will ask me how I did it.

Anyway, now comes the learned and experienced Dr. Best to tell us why the average life span of people is so much greater than 70-80 years ago, in spite of modern inventions like motor cars, etc.

Modern medical and surgical knowledge and practice is the answer of course.

When we peruse the obits (as we can until people read ours) we find ages of the deceased ones in the 70's, 80's or even 90's, tho some meet untimely demises during the 60's.

Infant mortality has been much less, likely due to medical progress; and many more pretty babies grow up to look and act like us. So the average life span is increased. Evidently if a kid chooses the proper parents one may survive to or near senility barring accidents or violence.

Records seem to show that the more deadly female of the species lives longer than the male. Also that married men live longer than single men. But you know the old gag, "It only seems longer."

Something puzzles me. In the old days many people lived to ripe old age. But "hardening of the arteries" was almost unheard of. Seems the medicos tried to find a scientific name for it and finally settled for "arterio-sclerosis." I remember a woman who was confined to a wheel chair, arms and legs (limbs in those days) useless, but mentally active and president of the Ladies Aid.

Nowadays we hear that condition is part of the aging process. But in the old days it was a "very rare disease" even among the aged.

Well, after all is said and done we live only once—"here today and gone tomorrow."

We know the earliest recorded history was the Egyptian calendar about 4021 B. C. That's a long time ago. An individual's life on this planet is just a speck on the sands of time. What comes after that, nobody evercame back to tell us. We can only surmise there may be Eternity ahead. We dunno.

But the mothers who love their brood the more,
Will not judge love by gifts from the store-
'Tis daily thoughtfulness on our part
That will cheer our mothers' loving heart—
So a day to honor her, let's decree,
But let us keep it commercial free!

POST OFFICE

When John Wanamaker was Postmaster General in 1889 he is said to have offered to take over the U. S. Post Office under contract, run it as a private enterprise on strictly business lines, and show a profit for the Government and himself instead of an annual deficit. The offer was declined.

Ever since then, except for a few scattered years, the Post Office has continued to operate at a loss.

When the Hoover Commission examined the Post Office it found much the same faults that Wanamaker had found: a creaky, over-centralized organizational structure; outmoded methods and equipment; cumbersome budgeting and accounting systems; a maze of tangled regulations and restrictions; hidden subsidies — and politics.

For these things, the people who work in the Post Office Department were not then, and are not now, to blame. Postal employees work hard as a rule and their wages and salaries are not high. Moreover, said the Commission in its report:

"Ambition is discouraged and efficiency reduced by the political selection of Postmasters."

Year by year the faults of the Post Office have been aggravated by sheer growth. The Post Office is today one of the world's biggest businesses. The latest audit shows that:

Its revenues are $1.3 billions a year.

It operates 42,000 branches and maintains 24,000 buildings.

It runs a fleet of 10,000 vehicles; transports and delivers more than 37 billion pieces of mail annually; conducts 800 million transactions in money orders, collect deliveries, and so forth; and runs a "bank" of four million depositors and accounts totaling $3.4 billions.

No private business could have grown to such proportions, however, if run on Post Office lines. No private business could operate at a continuously increasing loss—and remain in business at all. This year the Post Office is expected to incur a deficit of $500 millions—roughly one-third of its revenues. You, as a taxpayer, bear your share of this loss.

Fortunately for all taxpayers, the Hoover Commission was asked by Congress to seek ways of cutting the cost and improving the efficiency of Post Office operations.

About $140 millions a year could be saved by modernizing the organization, methods, and equipment of the Post Office. Annual losses could be cut an additional $114 millions a year by fixing new rates on certain items.

This is no small sum. It is part of the $3 billion a year which, the Report found, is being spent unnecessarily by the government as a whole. In seeking the causes of this loss, the Report found that:

—there has been no basic change in the organizational structure of the Post Office since 1836.

—every one of the nation's 42,000 Post Offices reports directly to Washington and must write to Washington on the simplest matters.

—80 per cent of mail sorting operations could be performed more quickly with the help of mechanical devices.

—it costs the Post Office (and you as a taxpayer) two-and-a-half cents to print and deliver a penny postcard (85 per cent of all penny post cards are used for business purposes).

—1.6 billion pieces of mail are carried for nothing each year.

—the Post Office operates under 58 separate Congressional appropriations ranging from $3,000 to $500 millions; this makes it impossible for a local Postmaster to run his post office as he would a business.

—auditing procedures are so cumbersome that the Postmaster General never gets the financial "score" from the General Accounting Office until 8 months after he turns in his accounts.

—the Post Office lacks proper authority to make rates on certain types of mail, such as money orders, postal notes, postal cards, special delivery, registered mail, insured mail, and so forth, on which it currently loses money.

For all these reasons the Commission found need for many basic changes in the structure and operations of the Post Office. Now before the Congress are three bills which would put into effect the recommendations of the Commission. They are S.2212 and S.2213, and H. R. 5775.

Summary of the Commission's recommendations:

(1) The Post Office should be taken out of politics; Senate confirmation of Postmasters should be abolished; the Postmaster General should not be an official of a political party.

(2) A Director of Posts should be named and the Post Office should be decentralized into 15 regions under Regional Directors and District Superintendents.

(3) The principles of business management, budgeting accounting, and audit should be applied to the Post Office.

(4) The laws, regulations, and other stipulations governing the Postal service should be simplified.

(5) "Hidden" subsidies to airlines and other carriers should be made instead a matter of open appropriation by Congress.

(6) The Post Office should be authorized by Congress to make rates for specialized services, to make such services self-supporting.

Study the Hoover Report Recommendations on the Post Office, and write your views to your own Senators and Representatives.

OBJECTS TO PARKING TICKET

Was surprised to receive the enclosed notice from Arlington Heights Police Department in the mail as there was no notice on my automobile, or if there was it must have blown away. I did not observe any sign or notice restricting parking at that particular spot, there were a number of other cars parked along side of me, but I suppose if you live in Arlington Heights you are immune.

Enclosed please find the donation to your Police Department and I hope it does you a lot of good. I used to do my shopping at your town but will go to Barrington in the future, a much better place.

Please receipt the enclosed notice and return to me for my files.

P. S.—Enclosed please find self addressed envelope for the receipt. Would not want to wait till the council passes an appropriation for same.

ARLINGTON POLICE REPLY THE NEIGHBORLY WAY

We are returning your check No. 569, in the sum of One Dollar, tendered under protest for Parking Violation in Arlington Heights.

We do this to impress upon you if possible, the fact that traffic laws and parking regulations are not designed as revenue measures but rather to make limited parking areas available to the greatest number of people and to promote safety and general welfare.

Your supposition that local residents are exempted from our parking rules, is not borne out by the records of the Police Department and we scorn the implication.

Incidentally we are returning your self addressed stamped envelope in case you may need it in Barrington to whence we note you proposed to transfer your trade. "Our loss, their gain."

If you care to come in and discuss this matter with me further, please feel free to do so.

Carl H. Skoog,
Chief of Police,
Arlington Heights.

Timber Stand

As proof of the fact that trees grow we know that since the colonists first landed here we have removed more than twice as much timber as was standing in 1630, more than 300 years ago. In spite of the clearing for cities, homes, farms and highways, we still have three-fourths of the original forest area.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

When we were little children, we used to pretend that we were grown up, perhaps even married with homes and children of our own. We day dreamed of our greatness, built castles in the air, pretending in our dreams that we were heroes doing the great deeds of those we read and saw.

Emulating great people or the good habits and personalities of others about us is good practice. Acting as though we are brave in moments of senseless fear is good psychology, since it tends to substitute the habit of courage for that of fear. The same is true of a feeling of failure or inferiority. Acting as though we are going to succeed, or that we are capable, helps to develop those characteristics in us if we follow through. Pretense is another thing.

Pretense is a habit of childhood carried over into our adult life. It is an attempt to compensate for the fact that we are not successful, rich, intelligent or capable simply by pretending that we are, and doing nothing to really become that way.

Far too many of us think that we can fool others into believing we are rich by wearing expensive clothes or driving costly cars. We believe we can convince others of our learning by quoting verses or passages which we have committed to memory. We believe we can make others believe we are christians by pious reference to the Bible and saving of souls, when in our daily living we show race prejudice, selfishness, callousness, and smug self righteousness that is a constant thorn in the sides of others.

Superiority, religion, intelligence, none of these things can be purchased in the market place, or gained by aping the passages from the thoughts of great men. They are not commodities that can be bought and sold. A person who is poor in intelligence and personality or in worldly goods cannot buy enough of the outer accoutrements of accomplishment to hide the poverty of his own incompetence.

Pretense does not pay. Nothing can be gained by it except a sort of smug, self complacency. Personality, success, intelligence, wealth, all of the rich worthwhile ingredients of personality and success are gained by sincere hard work, self sacrifice and determination. It is by giving that we receive, by loving that we are loved.

Summer schedule at Museum of Science

Coincident with Chicago's return to daylight saving time, the Museum of Science and Industry, 57th and Lake Michigan, began a summertime schedule of visiting hours. The Museum is now open weekdays from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., with the closing hour extended to 7 p. m. Sundays and major holidays. Extension of the closing hour from 4 to 5:30 p. m. is done during the spring and summer months to enable visitors to take full advantage of the longer daylight hours.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Jane:

It's May first, the sun is shining, and the mean old cold germs that were hanging around our house for so long, are, at last, on their way!

On one of my recent visits to the Art Institute I was happy to come across, quite unexpectedly, some exquisite 18th and 19th century potpourri jars which immediately awakened an interest in what the ingredients might have been that went into making the sweet smells that must have come forth when those lids were first removed.

Most of us associate such jars with great-grandmother and grandmother's time, but, did you know these things are being made and used today?

Recently I came across an article that explains what was used in the old days, also what the ingredients are that go into their making today.

Roses, mignonette, heliotrope, acacia, lavender, balm, basil, cloves and bay leaves, dried and blended, made a potpourri of sweet smells that great-grandmother prized highly. She kept the mixture in a porcelain jar, opened it to sweeten the air of the parlor for visitors, closed the lid juickly after they left so as not to waste the delicate fragrance.

The modern nose, however, demands perfumes that need only a whiff to be identified. For it, commercial potpourris augment the lightness of the bouquet with essential oils. But even in Queen Elizabeth's time, the maker of a scent jar added musk, civet and ambergris. The 19th century preferred soft shadings of scent, made its potpourris without the mixture of animal scents.

A lady of that period, the Countess of Rosse, gives this recipe for a sweet jar:

Four handfuls of damask roses
Two handfuls of lavender flowers
Two handfuls of orange flowers
Two handfuls of clove carnations
One handful each of the flowers of sweet marjoram, thyme, rosemary, myrtle and mint.
One Seville orange stuck with cloves, well dried and pounded
One ounce of cinnamon and one of cloves
The rind of two lemons, and six bay leaves.

All the ingredients must be thoroughly dried before mixing them together in a jar with bay salt.

Aren't these names enchanting?

Actually there are as many recipes for potpourris as there are rose petals with which to make them. A simple one calls for:

Ten cups of dried rose petals, three ounces of orris root, ½ ounce each of ground cloves, cinnamon and allspice.

Mix ingredients thoroughly and allow them to mellow in an earthenware crock for several weeks before transferring to smaller containers. Orris root, calamus powder or powdered benzoin act as a fixative for volatile oils.

With such a recipe as a base, one may make any number of pleasant additions of herbs, spices and dried blossoms to formulate one's own favorite combinations of fragrances.

Since rose petals form the major ingredient of a potpourri, the way in which they are gathered and dried does make a difference in the quality of the final product. They should be picked when the dew has dried off them and before the sun is at its height. You can spread them on newspapers, but a window screen is best for the purpose. It allows air to circulate around the petals, makes them ready for use within a few days. Dry the flowers in a cool, airy room, never in direct sunlight. When crisp, rub them into a powder. Store in tightly covered bottles ready for blending with other ingredients.

You know this might be a good idea for Christmas presents. That is, of course, if one has a rose garden where the petals would be easily accessible. Think of the attractive bottles (with lids) one can purchase and the gay ribbons with which to decorate them. Sounds like a fascinating and original gift to me.

With love, Mary.

"DUCK" DELIVERS MILK TO FLOODED TOWN

"WATER, WATER, EVERYWHERE, but not a drop of milk!" That was the plight of 20 suburban families during the recent Chicago area floods until resourceful dairymen borrowed an amphibious "duck" to make deliveries. The community, cut off from all auto traffic when the Des Plaines river overflowed its banks and flooded streets and yards, is Glen Acres, northwest of the city, served by the Argyle branch of the Wanzer Milk company. "Our duck was the only vehicle moving in the whole town," Wanzer men said. "We made all 20 deliveries right to the back porches, as usual, though some of the homes were completely surrounded by water. After that job was done, we hauled three stranded cars up out of the water to dry ground." The amphibious craft, a type developed in wartime for beach-head invasions, is owned by E. F. Van Kessel, Wanzer branch manager.

25 Boy Scout patrols win top ratings at council first aid meet

by ARNOLD HATCH

The 25 Scout Patrols representing 14 Scout Troops of N. W. S. Council, who won highest honors in local and district first aid contests, met in the Council finals at Rand Park fieldhouse, Des Plaines, April 27.

"A" ratings were won by 20 patrols and "B" ratings went to the remaining five patrols.

Four tough problems involving shock, fractured ribs, arms, legs, spine, nose, venous and arterial bleeding, were correctly diagnosed in short order. Proper remedies were speedily applied, in fact 15 minutes was all the time allowed for treatment in each problem.

The seriousness of the situations were reflected in the Scouts faces as they went about the solutions of the problems. One thought was uppermost in their minds and that was to do their level best. The high ratings prove they have had excellent training and are fully prepared to cope with most any type of emergency.

William Ziebell, Council Health and Safety chairman, highly complimented these patrols for their excellent showing:

Main-Ridge District: Troop 1, Crows A; Troop 2 Bat A; Sea Bee A; Tiger A; Troop 11 Bat B; Troop 17 Explorer A; Troop 24 Moose A.

Algonquin District: Troop 27 Cobra B; Eagle A; Troop 42 Moose A; Wolf B; Cobra-1 A.

Skokie Valley District: Troop 26 Owls A; Troop 28 Warrior A; Troop 31 Seal A.

Blackhawk District: Troop 7 Flying Eagle A; Elk A; Wolverine A; Troop 23 Cobra A; Flying Eagle B; Hound B; Troop 32 Mule Train A; Butchers A; Artery Twisters A; Knotheads A.

Stan Huntington, Scout Executive expressed his appreciation to all who helped to make the meet so successful. Among these Scouters are:

Doctors: Harold Love, Bob Duthic, Frank Ferlic, Don Brosart.
Time Keeper: Darrell Murray.
Score Keepers: W. P. Carr, Norbert Harz, Harold Johnson, Walter Pratt, Frank Griffin, Wally DeBuhr.
Referee: Chas. Secora.
Publicity: Arnold Hatch.

Wilson School Community News

There were 259 votes cast at the Wilson school last Saturday, but the school addition lost by 3 and the bond issue by 32.

Alice and Chuck Simmonds have spent the last few weeks in the house with measles and mumps. Alice plans to return to school next week.

Pat Castellanos celebrated her seventh birthday last Saturday. Neighborhood children and friends from Chicago attended the party.

Mrs. Schanmier's father, Mr. Lindstrom, is in Ravenswood hospital, suffering from asthma and heart trouble.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Irene Neverman and family. Mr. Edwin Neverman passed away last Saturday morning at St. Francis hospital, and funeral services were held Monday.

Mrs. Ralph Shelkop and Mrs. Max Hershey attended the annual spring luncheon of the Arlington Heights Women's club at the Edgewater Beach Hotel Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Magnussen and Miss Paulus, teachers at the Wilson school, accompanied the children on a trip to the Hawthorne Mellody Farms at Libertyville, Ill., last Monday. Several of the mothers went too, and everyone enjoyed the interesting things to be seen at the farm. The lady in charge of conducting the tour complimented the children on their fine behavior.

The Community Club is sponsoring their last party of the season at the school house next Saturday evening, May 6 at 8 o'clock. Tickets can be purchased at the door.

IDEAL SETUP

You would never catch a Ba Venda native moving in with his in-laws. In fact he doesn't move in with his wife. According to The World Book Encylopedia, this African tribe habitually builds little round, thatched huts in which only one person lives.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. What is the proper way to shake hands?

A. Make your hand grasp firm and cordial. Avoid that limp clasp, sometimes known as the "dead fish" or "wet dishrag" handclasp. However it is not good taste to make the other person wince with pain. And avoid the pump-handle type of handshake, too.

Q. When is the proper time for a bridegroom to give his presents to his best man and ushers?

A. On the night of his bachelor dinner, which is usually a day or two before his wedding.

Q. Is it good taste, when dining in a restaurant, to wipe off the silver with a napkin?

A. Na, this is exceedingly ill-bred. If the silver is not clean enough, call the waiter and have him replace it.

Q. Don't you think it is uncouth to eject from the mouth to the floor the little specks of tobacco that separate themselves from the cigarette or cigar?

A. It most certainly is. Remove these particles from the mouth with the thumb and forefinger and place them in an ashtray. It is best to do as little of this as possible.

Q. If a bride has already thanked a person for a wedding gift, is it then necessary for her to write a note of thanks?

A. Yes; these "thank you" notes are obligatory.

Q. Where should one place the spoon when one has finished eating a dessert that is served in a stemmed glass?

A. It should be placed on the plate underneath the dessert dish.

Q. When a girl has been shown attention by a young man for almost a year, would it be all right for her to send him a birthday gift?

A. Yes, if he has given her gifts, and by doing so will not establish a precedent, or place him under obligations that he cannot afford.

Q. Should a bride always present her bridesmaids with gifts?

A. This is the customary thing to do, and the gifts are usually of jewelry.

Q. Are place cards used at the informal luncheon?

A. No; the hostess gives directions as to the seating, unless the guests are so many that place cards must be used.

Q. When introducing a man to a group of persons, is it all right to introduce him to them collectively?

A. No; introduce him to each person individually, but it isn't necessary to mention his name to each person and, if possible, you may mention two or three of the group's names together.

Q. To whom only should one send notes announcing a birth?

A. Only to intimate friends.

Republican women to hear Mrs. R. E. Church at spring luncheon-fashion show May 11 at Tam O'Shanter club

Mrs. Ralph E. Church, widow of Congressman Ralph E. Church and President of the Congressional Club of Washington, D. C., which includes the wives and daughters of present and former members of the House of Representatives, the Senate, the Cabinet and the Supreme Court, will address the spring luncheon-fashion show sponsored by the 13th Congressional District Republican Women's Organization, Thursday, May 11, 12 o'clock, at the Tam O'Shanter Country club. The subject of her address will be: "Republican Women—1950."

Mrs. Alverta Stewart, chairman of the 13th Congressional District Republican Women's Organization is general chairman of the party. She is assisted by Mrs. William L. Winters of Highland Park.

"Mrs. Church, experienced in International Affairs for Peace, a woman active in civic affairs and an active Republican, has a vital and timely message for all women," states Mrs. Stewart.

THIS REPUBLICAN organization, whose members come from Barrington, Elk Grove, Evanston, Hanover, Leyden, Maine, New Trier, Northfield, Niles, Norwood Park, Palatine, Schaumburg, and Wheeling Townships in Cook County and all of Lake County, is effectively organized for the Republican attack in the fall elections. Participating in this luncheon-fashion show are key women, prominent in business, social, civic and philanthropic projects, who have undertaken to become patronesses.

"Their wide interests and energetic efforts will bring results in stimulating interest in Republicanism," states Mrs. Edward Middleton, Evanston chairman of the Patroness Committee.

Mrs. Ellsworth Mills, Highand Park, Patroness Chairman of Lake County says: "This list is not complete. Names keep coming with the growing enthusiasm. Advance reservations indictate an attendance of 1000 women."

MRS. R. E. CHURCH

Among those who have already accepted are: Cook County—Mrs. Bertha Baur, National Republican Committeeman from Illinois; Mrs. Irene Reidy, Chairman Cook County Committeewomen; Mrs. Werner Schroeder, wife of the National Republican Committeewoman from Illinois; Mrs. George F. Veterans must get OK before expecting U. S. to pay dental expenses

Dental examinations for World War II veterans to determine eligibility for treatment at government expense will not be paid by Uncle Sam unless authorized prior to the exam, the Illinois Veterans Commission pointed out.

Many veterans have taken it upon themselves to have their teeth examined by their own dentists under the mistaken impression that the government would pay the bill or at least reimburse them for the expense involved.

A veteran who believes he is entitled to dental treatment at government expense must file a claim. If his service records show that dental work was performed in service the government may authorize an examination at their expense. From the examination they will also determine whether service-connection is established for further treatment.

IVC offices are located at 164 N. Marion, Oak Park; 213 Liberty building, Wheaton; 634 Davis, Evanston.

Purdue Glee club to appear in Chicago May 9

Purdue University's renowned Varsity Glee Club, one of America's most famous college choruses, will appear in Chicago May 9, at 8:15, in Orchestra Hall.

Proceeds from the concert will further alumni work, including the universities Alumni Scholarship fund set up five years ago to assist students desiring science or engineering educations at Purdue.

Directed by Albert P. Stewart, who also directs the Marshall Field Choral Society, the Purdue Glee Club in 1942 was named by Fred Waring as one of the top two college Glee clubs in America. At the Presidential Inaugural Ceremonies in 1949, the Glee Club represented all land grant colleges and universities. Recently, the National Capitol Sesquicentennial Commission announced the appointment of Mr. Stewart as National Director of Festival Music for the Washington, D. C., Freedom Fair of 1951.

Holly Custom

Sprigs of holly, now a symbol of Christian celebration, were exchanged as tokens of good wishes by the ancient Romans at the pagan festival of Saturnalia.

? Questions On GI Bill ?

Question: Is a terminal leave bond acceptable collateral for a bank loan?.

Answer: No. Terminal leave bonds are not negotiable.

Question: My employer has offered me transfer and promotion to a grade of work which will pay me much better than my present job. If I accept this higher paying job, will I lose my disability compensation?? My disability is service-connected.

Answers: No. Your compensation would not be affected, unless upon medical examination the VA found the degree of your disability to be reduced.

Question: I have kept my $10,000 NSLI policy but have not yet converted it to any of the permanent plans offered. I wish to buy a home. Can I use my NSLI policy as the basis for a loan to buy the home?

Answer: No. Not unless you convert it to one of the permanent insurance plans, and it has been in effect long enough to build up a reserve.

County quota announced for Savings Bonds drive

A quota of $34,367,000 in Series "E" U. S. Savings Bonds has been set for Cook County for the Independence Drive, May 15-July 4, it is anounced by Arnold J. Rauen, State Director, U. S. Treasury Savings Bonds Division for Illinois. There is no "F" or "G" bond quota. The Illinois "E" Bond quota is $56,048,000. The national quota is $650,000,000. In last year's Bond Drive Illinois, with a quota of $89,000,000, reached 134% of goal. The slogan: "Save For Your Independence—Buy U. S. Savings Bonds."

Edens superhighway will be done by end of this year; here are detours to operate during summer months

Skokie Rd. (U. S. 41) one of the most heavily traveled main vacation routes, will be no place on which to travel this summer.

A detailed tour of the construction projects along Edens Superhighway by Chicago Motor Club traffic engineers shows that North-bound Chicagoans will be bottled up at a three-mile stretch of Skokie Road. (U. S. 41) which extends from Illinois Rd. north to the Cook-Lake County boundary.

If you're headed north in the family car, Chas. M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club, recommends that you skirt the construction area by using Waukegan Rd. (State 42-A), Green Bay Rd. or Sheridan Rd. (State 42). Once you're north of the Lake-Cook County boundary line you can swing over to Skokie Road.

WHILE THE State Highway Department expects to keep two moving lanes open in each direction on the three-mile construction stretch this summer, traffic movement will be impeded by the cross-traffic of trucks, construction machinery and work parties. These operations will be widespread enough to bottle up the rapid flow of traffic which is necessary to keep the cars moving. Unfamiliarity with the new by-passes which have been constructed is another factor which will slow up traffic in this area.

Normally, when traffic is light there should not be any excessive delay along the northern part of Skokie Rd. During peak periods, Friday nights, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, Chicago Motor Club engineers expect a mass jam of automobiles along this construction site.

From Illinois Rd. to the Cook-Lake County line Illinois State Highway police will be on the watch for any motorists who exceed the posted speed limit of 30 m.p.h. State police have emphasized that speeds in excess of 30 m.p.h. in the posted area are extremely dangerous—especially for unitiated motorists who are not familiar with newly constructed by-passes and obstructions.

ONE OF THE most dangerous points is approximately 1½ miles south of Dundee Rd. near Tower Rd. where one of the re-inforced concrete piers for the Edens Park Superhighway is located in the center of Skokie Rd. In the last six months there have been two fatal accidents here. A steel cable-type barrier marked by red lights with yellow wig-wag signals at the north and south ends, occupies 2,000 ft. of the center portion of Skokie Rd. at this hazardous spot. Traffic is funneled through only one lane in each direction at this stretch and motorists are cautioned to be watchful for this treacherous obstacle. The posted speed limit here is 20 m.p.h.

By the end of this year, Cook County highway officials say, Edens Superhighway will be finished and will replace U. S. 41 as the main artery from Chicago to Milwaukee.

Bits of business

Installment buyers are helping to speed up auto sales. Time-buying has jumped over 20 per cent since last year. Used car prices, meanwhile, have stopped dropping. A spring buying spree has suddenly boomed sales, bounced prices 10 per cent above 1949 marks . . . Auto prices aren't the only ones climbing back up again: metals, gasoline, building materials, and several other lines have also reported price boosts . . . As might be expected, the recent record-cracking activity in home building is proving a boon to furniture, appliance, television and other household-supply dealers. It's also been a strong employment prop in these fields, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Well-written suspense story is dominated by black panther

The suspense of an elemental struggle dominates Walter Van Tilburg Clark's novel of last year The Track of the Cat. The story is told against the bleak background of a lonely ranch in the Sierras during an unseasonly heavy October snowfall.

An animal has been frightening and killing the cattle and two brothers, Art and Curt, set out to track it down. They leave behind in the farmhouse another brother and his sweetheart, a sister, father and mother and an old superstitious Indian, Joe Sam. The Indian believes the marauder to be a black panther, a personification of the evil which has dogged his footsteps since young manhood. In nis own way, which harks back to ancestral wisdom, he also fights the elusive attacker.

The dark night, howling wind, even the monotony of continuing the household chores heightens the suspense as to the outcome of the chase. The feeling grows that the evil which the panther represents, whether real or supernatural, must be hunted and destroyed. Curt's obsession is comparable to Nunn Ballew's ceaseless hunt after King Devil in Hunter's Horn.

The action develops gradually, tracing the relationships between the boy at home and his sweetheart, the sister and her favorite brother, the mother and each of her sons. The chase becomes a life and death struggle. Through the detailed happenings and waitings of these crucial days, each of the characters shakes off any superficialities of appearance and reveals himself for what he is. Each lifetime with its pleasure and suffering is exposed in the ruthless light of the exhausting struggle.

Tax facts—

The Post Office Department's curtailment on mail service is like the man who laid down the law to his wife about her spending habits when he got the bills at the end of the month—with the net result that he gave up smoking to balance the budget.

Isn't it a peculiar coincidence that the order curtailing post office service was handed down at this particular time.

A. When Congress is considering the amount it will appropriate for the Post Office Department and other governmental agencies for the period from July 1 of this year to June 30, 1951.

B. When individual members of Congress have been becoming more and more economy-minded.

C. When citizens throughout the nation are learning more and more about the findings of the Hoover Commission . . . that the Post Office Department this year will spend around half a billion dollars more than its income . . . that it costs 2½c for the government to print and deliver a penny postcard . . . that there has been no real change in the organization of the Post Office in over 100 years . . . that $140 million a year could be saved by modernization of organization methods and equipment.

It's an old trick, and one that the Government bureaucrats have found successful time after time, this business of making curtailments in a service closest to the people in order to arouse a storm of protests to bring undue pressure on an economy-minded Congress and prevent other curtailments that should be made of wasteful and non-essential functions.

* * *

It's high time that the people back home and the members of Congress recognize this trick for what it is.

Let's look at the Post Office Department's curtailment order more closely. Residential mail deliveries will be once a day instead of twice. Actually, what hardship is a citizen going to suffer if he doesn't get a letter or magazine . . . or bill . . . until the next morning? Is there any valid reason why business firms cannot complete their window service requirements, such as the purchase of stamps and the mailing of packages, during the regulation work-day instead of at night or over week ends? Here seems to be a clear-cut case of convenience versus necessity. It puts the issue squarely before each of us: Are we willing to buy economy at the price of some inconvenience?

If we are willing to say: "I am for economy, period," instead of "I am for economy, but," then each of us should write to our Senators—Scott Lucas and Paul Douglas, and to our Representatives in Congress, urging them to stand pat on the reduced postal service, and to go a step farther by voting for S. 2212, S. 2213 and HR 5775 recommended by the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report to take the Post Office Department out of politics and to eliminate waste, extravagance and inefficiency from postal operations.

Optometrists attend educational congress

Dr. Wm. P. Dowling of Barrington; Dr. Richard Smiley of Prospect Heights, and Dr. Robert H. Balfour of Arlington Heights, were in Chicago April 30 to May 2, taking part in the 13th Annual Great Lakes Optometric Congress at the Morrison hotel.

Optometrists from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin aso participated in the annual meeting which is held under the auspices of the Optometric Extension program. The O.E.P. being a post-graduate study course. The main theme of the Congress was "Visual Rehabilitation."

Students vie for parts in spring concert

Auditions are the order of the day this week as many local students compete with others for the opportunity to perform a specialty number at the 13th annual spring concert of the El Rey Music Center; the concert will be held at the Portage Park Grammar School on May 21.

Half of the program is usually filled with the big guitar and accordion presentations; the balance is made up from the smaller groups who do the best job of auditioning. Competition is very keen. Last year, twelve numbers were picked to complete the program from a field of over forty contestants.

A Philco television set will be a feature this year. Sponsored by parents of the students, this award is an extra to help sell tickets which are available from all students or at the door. Proceeds will go to pupils taking part as a reward for the extra work in putting on this show.

Brings home first in individual fat stock judging contest at Volo

Arnold Grimm, asistant treasurer of the Future Farmers of America chapter at the Arlington Heights high school, won first place honors in the fat stock judging contest for individuals.

The contest was held April 27 at the Chandon Farms near Volo. Eighty boys, representing 16 high schools, participated in this event, each team being comprised of five boys from each school.

According to Leroy Moellenkamp, reporter, Arlington's team placed seventh in team judging.

Brucellosis may spread from swine to cattle

A University of Illinois veterinarian warns today that brucellosis can spread from swine to cattle. Failure to eliminate the disease from your swine may explain its presence in your cattle.

Dr. G. T. Woods says swine, cattle, and goats each have a different kind of brucellosis. Usually the different germs don't spread from one type of animal to another. However, the swine type has been found in cattle. Sometimes the cattle type also infects sheep.

In Illinois, brucellosis is primarily a problem in cattle and swine. It causes severe losses through breeding failures, abortions, stillbirths, and weakness in calves and pigs. In cattle, it also reduces milk production.

THE CONTROL of brucellosis is primarily an individual herd problem to be worked out between the herd owner and his veterinarian. The control program depends largely on the number of infected animals, their ages, and the importance of maintaining blood lines.

Other control factors include taking extreme care to buy only healthy animals, and having blood tests made periodically in both swine and cattle. In cattle, calfhood vaccination is sometimes a valuable aid.

Dr. Woods says adoption of the accredited herd plan should be your goal whether you own cattle or swine. Your veterinarian will be glad to help you start an accredited herd program.

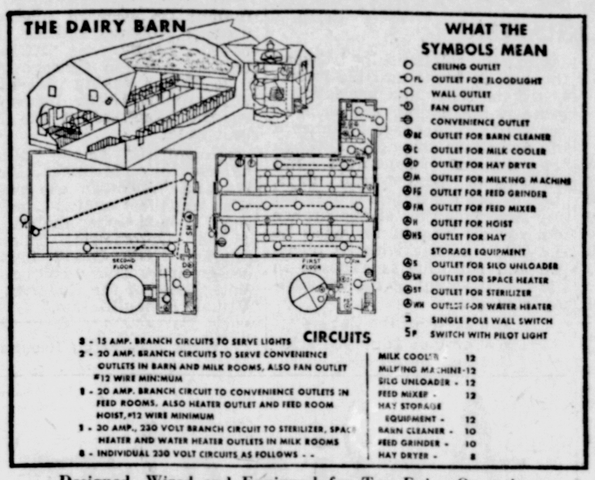
Dairy Barn Needs Planned Wiring

* * * * * * *

Here Are Hints on Speeding Up Farm Chores



Designed, Wired and Equipped for Top Dairy Operations

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Dairy farming is one of agriculture's hardest, as well as one of its most profitable operations. Its many and varied chores can not be rushed without upsetting the desired objective—the production of high quality milk. To help speed up the performance of these chores, and at the same time put them on a less time and labor consuming basis represents a big challenge. Much, however, has been done to assist dairymen—and more will be accomplished later—through the use of electrical equipment and properly designed buildings.

The above sketch will provide some idea of the progress being made. For here we see a dairy barn which is adequately wired, equipped, lighted and planned for top efficiency. Also shown is information on the number of electrical circuits needed, size of wire and a key to the symbols appearing on the floor plans. Provisions have been made for milking electrically, thereby reducing by half the amount of time usually spent in hand milking. An electric barn cleaner does in a few minutes what used to take an hour or more. Also illustrated is a ventilation system to remove excessive moisture from the stanchion part of the barn.

The building is equipped with a pressure system to provide water for various purposes, including individual drinking cups and the milk house. Convenience outlets are found in several places for the use of clippers, immersion heaters and heat lamps, etc. The milk house is equipped with an electric milk cooler, hot water heater, sterilizer and space heater.

A feature of the barn, shown, is a feed processing room, with connecting overhead bins, feed grinder and mixer for automatic handling of grain. The silo is attached so that ensilage can be unloaded mechanically into carts in a section of the feed room. Also there is a hay curing system located in the mow, with the fan powered by a 5 horsepower motor.

Lighting outlets are shown located every 12 feet along the center line of the litter alley and one every 20 feet on a center line in the feed alley. If more light is desired, it is recommended that a second line of lights be located in the litter alley, with outlets placed over the hind quarters of each row of cows. In order to protect the service panel from frost and moisture, it is shown located on an inside wall.

LAW on the FARM

Farm ponds

What legal problems may I encounter when I build a pond on my farm? This is a question which has been asked by many Illinois farmers. Here are some of the answers:

1. If the pond is so constructed that it diverts the natural outlet for surface waters or the point at which a stream enters lower land, the owner of the lower land is entitled to damages and to restoration of the point of entry of the natural depression or stream.

2. If the pond causes a material and permanent reduction in the amount of water flowing onto lower areas through a watercourse or stream, the lower riparian (stream-bank) owner may prevent such reduction.

3. If the dam for the pond is not well constructed and goes out during a flood or heavy rain, lower owners may recover damages suffered because of the failure of the dam.

4. If the pond collects surface waters which would have drained off in channels other than the outlet from the dam, lower owners receiving this increased amount of surface water may legally complain.

5. IF THE DAM causes water to back up and stand on upper owners, even if only after heavy rains, and water did not back up on their properties before the dam was constructed they may obtain damages and enjoin the continuance of the dam.

6. There may be situations in which a farm pond owner could be held liable for injury or loss of life in the pond. Failure to post or publish adequate warnings or to fence or protect the pond might sometimes, in the case of children habitually frequenting the pond, invoke the "attractive nuisance" theory. Under this theory courts have sometimes, held property owners liable for not taking active steps to keep youngsters away from dangerous attractive objects on their premises, when they know that youngsters are playing there. Unprotected railroad turntables are the classic example of an "attractive nuisance."

7. Fish in a stock pond are the property of the state and are subject to rules and regulations of the Fish Code. There are provisions in the code pertaining to ponds fed only by surface waters or an intermittent stream and covering less than 15 acres. Information on the application of the State Fish Code to private ponds and lakes may be obtained by writing to the Superintendent, Fish Division, State Department of Conservation, Springfield, Ill.

May 15-25 is best time for corn planting, control

Delay your corn planting until May 15 to May 25 and you'll cut down corn borer damage greatly without hurting your corn yields.

G. H. Dungan, agronomist in the Illinois College of Agriculture, says that, when corn borers lay their eggs on small plants, few of the eggs survive. But the corn borer moth is a good judge of corn. In late June the moth picks out the tallest corn it can find and lays its eggs there. Borers hatching from eggs laid on larger plants have a much better chance to survive because there's plenty of food.

Delayed, midseason planting is definitely a handicap to corn borers, especially on fertile soil. Early planting hurts not only your own chances for good yields, but your neighbor's chances too. Early-planted corn is a nursery where second-generation borers can multiply.

Dungan points out that six years of tests clearly prove that corn planted during the last two weeks in May yields just as well as earlier planted corn. For largest yields and least lodging, the ideal planting date is May 23. And at least two winners in the 1949 corn yield contest planted their corn on that date.

"NATURALLY May 23 is a goal to shoot at," Dungan explained. "Certainly planting before May 15 is not the way to get largest yields or best corn borer control. Let's avoid unwarranted planting during the first two weeks in May."

Corn borers are very sensitive to their living conditions, the agronomist adds. With delayed planting, we can go a long way toward knocking out borers without cutting the yield or quality of our crop.

H. B. Petty, insect specialist in the college of Illinois Natural History Survey, adds that the borer threat is worst north of U. S. Highway 36. South of that line farmers should be able to control borers almost entirely by following recommended planting dates.

Fertilizer setup given to double forage yields

If your soils are not in condition to grow legumes and grasses, you may easily double your production by adjusting the soil to the liking of these crops.

A. L. Lang, soils man in the Illinois College of Agriculture, said the first step in getting good stands and high yields of forage crops is to seed them only on land well supplied with limestone. Strongly acid soils need 3 to 4 tons of lime to the acre.

The second step is to make sure the soil is well supplied with phosphorus and potassium. You can get this information from soil tests and from studying previous crop rotations and soil treatments.

YOU CAN SUPPLY phosphorus through rock phosphate, super-phosphate, or mixed fertilizers. The important thing is to use plenty of whatever source you select. When you apply enough phosphorus to do the job on the small grain nurse crop and legume seeding, it returns more per dollar invested than when applied any other place in the rotation.

You can put on 1,000 to 1,500 pounds of rock phosphate an acre and disk it in thoroughly before seeding. This one application should last 10 to 15 years. Or you can put on 300 to 500 pounds of superphosphate every 3 or 4 years. Mixed fertilizers may be a pretty expensive way to apply phosphorus unless your soil needs the other plant foods in the fertilizer too.

Forage crops need more potassium than we usually suspect. If your soil needs it, apply plenty. The usual recommendation is 200 pounds of muriate of potash an acre.

Lang adds that nitrogen, magnesium, boron, and some trace elements are often offered for sale with a great many promises that are not commonly realized in Illinois soils.

The facts of life about flies here

"In fly control we seem to have forgotten there are some plain facts of life that also apply to them," says Farm Adviser Hughes. "Just as in every other higher organism there is a papa and mama, and the little ones have to be raised properly. Flies know to lay their eggs in decaying debris. Here the eggs hatch when weather is warm and the maggots feed on moist rotting materials, come out as flies, and an increasing number with each generation lay more and more eggs to finally become more and more flies.

"This is the time of year to go over all your premises and spread any kind of decaying matter. There is not enough DDT to decrease the fly population when there is garbage to raise a new crop of flies.

"A surprisingly small amount of garbage supplies a fly incubator. A small pile of grass clippings, old hay or straw to say nothing of a manure pile is a fly breeding location. Town people dump lawn clippings in weeds and raise flies for the sake of a nice lawn.

"Unquestionably, many flies are becoming tolerant to DDT

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS

Charcoal not rations

A University of Illinois poultry specialist declared that it does no good to add charcoal to chick rations, and it may actually slow down their growth.

Sam Ridlen says claims have been made that charcoal removed such things as carbon dioxide, ammonia, bacteria, poisons, and enzymes from the digestive tracts of chickens. Here's what the University of California found when they fed rations with and without 2 per cent charcoal:

With charcoal, the chicks' growth was not too good, 15 out of 20 chicks had vitamin A deficiency, blood-clotting time was increased to more than 30 minutes because of lack of vitamin K, and all of the chicks had eroded gizzard linings. There was also some "curled-toe paralysis" which indicated lack of vitamin G.

Chicks with the same diet, but without charcoal, had good growth and no cases of vitamin A shortage, blood-clotting time was only 2½ minutes, and all gizzard linings were normal.

Retail food index does not follow farmers' prices

"The hope or dream that when farm prices go down, that food prices to the consumer will also go down is not always true," says Farm Adviser Hughes. "There are a number of reasons for this. It was also true and it has been so long ago we have forgotten it, that farmers' prices went up faster than food prices. The mark up is retarded because of the middleman's uncertainty that such raises are permanent, the hesitation to mark up before competition goes up, and the buying public's resistance to raising prices.

"On the other hand when farm prices go down the handlers are reluctant to mark down so long as the public is buying freely. Not until there is a strong shopper's resistance are prices materially reduced.

"ANOTHER BASIC reason for prices not declining in the retail market as rapidly as farm prices decline is that the farmers' price is only a fraction of the consumer's cost—anywhere from 50c to 25c. There is the item of reselling, transportation, factory costs, with labor, spoilage, etc., etc. The classic example is that it would cost the milk company about 12c to deliver a quart bottle of milk.

"Some commodities that are strictly controlled as the citrus industry for instance make a practice of getting all their commodity possible in the market at a price the public will pay at a bargain. Hence, the wide fluctuation in citrus prices. Citrus is a commodity that does not require expensive processing as milk for example.

"IT WOULD seem to us that the Brannan Plan which visualizes allowing farm prices to seek as low a level as possible so the consumer may get the benefit of cheap food will partly be defeated for the reasons last pointed out."

Rat test shows necessity of well balanced diet

A diet deficientcy test was conducted by four members of the Arlington Heights high school Common Learnings class, instructed by R. M. Conrad. The four boys were Dave Karstens, James Thomson, James Brazelton, and Roger Lawbaugh.

The experiment, including four rats, one for each of three deficiencies, fats, carbohydrates, and protein, and one as a check, was started Jan. 4, 1950 and ended February 21, 1950. The class studying nutrition at that time noted the physical results on the rats after the experiment and thus had a better idea of the results of food deficiencies in a diet.

All three rats that lacked an important food in their diet were stunted and also showed other physical deficiencies. Not only did they fail to grow, they actually lost weight and developed deformities not found in normal rats.

The rats lacking carbohydrates and protein were stunted the most and became sterile due to the experiment. However, the rat lacking the fat in its diet fared better and did not become sterile.

Six practices given to put soil in good tilth

Does your soil dry out more slowly after a heavy rain than it used to? Does it stay too wet to be worked several days longer than it should?

Farm Adviser Hughes says these are signs your soil is wearing out. And if we ruin our rich corn-belt soils, the United States is through as a great nation.

Good soil tilth, or physical condition, is the key to maintaining continued high fertility. In good-tilth soils, the crumbs are large enough to let air and water move freely into and through the soil and to make it work nicely, absorb water fast, hold lots of water, and drain quickly.

You can put your soil into good tilth and keep it that way by following six practices. They're explained in more detail in a new booklet, Circular 655, Tilth of Corn-Belt Soils, just received by the adviser. It's written by R. S. Stauffer, soils man in the Illinois College of Agriculture. These six practices are:

1. DON'T GROW corn, soybeans, and oats all the time. Even our best soils will lose their good tilth if kept in row crops and small grains year after year.
2. Keep adding organic matter. Legumes and grasses are the best source.
3. Don't work the soil too much or too often. Grow legumes and grasses on your land at least one year in every four.
4. Keep the soil covered as much of the time as possible. The best cover is a sod crop, but a mulch of crop residues furnishes a lot of protection.
5. Keep off wet soils as much as possible.
6. Adopt a good crop rotation NOW, one that fits your needs, and stick to it. To keep the soil in best condition, the rotation must include grasses and deep-rooted legumes.

Farm danger time now at hand

Be careful when operating tractors, discs and plows!

Don't let your children ride on tractors and other farm machinery!

Illinois farmers can save many lives—their own and their children's—if they will follow these two safety rules this spring, according to John Lake, safety director for the Illinois Agricultural Association.

Observing these safety measures is especially important now, he said, because farmers are busy with spring work. And spring farm work is more dangerous than farmers realize.

Lake said reports show that one-third of all tractor accidents happen during May and June. Many accidents with discs and plows also occur during these two months.

But they can be avoided if farmers will be more careful, he said.

"One of the best ways to be careful is not to get in a hurry while operating farm machinery.

"Trying to cut safety corners to save time often proves costly," Lake declared. "It means broken arms and legs, hospital bills and lost time."

Hanover twp. had 18,183 acres of farms in '48

In 1948, Hanover farms reported 18,504 acres of tillable land, Clark said.

Making public the Assessor's annual farm acreage census, Clark said that Hanover farms grew 13 different crops including truck and garden. Township farmers also reported 1,231 apple and 93 peach trees.

In addition, 29 farms reported that 599 cattle and calves were placed on grain feed for market.

The acreage census, gathered last year, reports crop actually grown in 1948, Clark explained.

PRINCIPAL CROP grown was corn, with 154 farms reporting 5,577 acres. Oats was second with 4,105 acres from 146 farms. These two crops account for about 53 per cent of total acreage in operation in the township, Clark said.

Clark praised Hanover township Assessor Emil Hattendorf for his work in collecting farm statistics.

Following is a break-down of Hanover's chief crops and acreage:

Crop	Acreage
Corn	5,577
Oats	4,105
Alfalfa	3,131
Clover	619
Soy Beans	551
Wheat	230

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "Whom did you say is going with you?" Say, "Who did you say is going with ou?"

One is accountable to another person, but is accountable for a thing. "Brown is accountable to his foreman." "Brown is accountable for these errors."

Do not say, "I am through with my work." Say, "I have finished my work."

Do not say, "I have found that it's an actual fact." Omit actual.

Do not say, "I am glad that I went, even if I were disappointed." Say, "I am glad that I went, even if I was disappointed."

Words Often Mispronounced

Orgy. Pronounce or-ji, as in or, ji as in jilt.

Insulate. Pronounce the u as in use, not as in sud.

Interlocutor. Pronounce in-ter-lok-u-ter, o as in look, u as in use, principal accent on third syllable.

Accede. Pronounce ak-seed, accent on second syllable.

Sonorous. Pronounce with accent on second syllable, not the first.

Stamina. Pronounce first a as in at, not as in stay.

Words Often Misspelled

Dark-complexioned, not dark-complected. Renaissance; observe the ai and the two s's. Maize (Indian corn); maze (labyrinth). Bountiful, ti; bounteous, te. Fricassee; observe the two s's and two e's. Decent (respectable); descent (a going down).

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for th s lesson:

Illimitableness; that which cannot be limited or measured. "We cannot estimate the illimitableness of Eternity."

Trenchant; keen; biting; secere. "His trenchant wit amused the audience."

Abdicate; to renounce, give up, or withdraw from. "The king was forced to abdicate his throne."

Tenebrific; rendering dark or gloomy. (Pronounce ten-e-brif-ik, with accent on third syllable). "It lightens, it brightens the tenebrific scene."—Burns.

Impel; to urge forward; give an impulse to. "I feel impelled by duty to do this."

Figment; an invented statement; a fiction. "It was a mere figment of a poet's fancy."

WOMEN'S WEAR

If you "haven't a thing to wear" you are no worse off than many people in the world less than 200 years ago. Until the last century or two many persons never had a new garment in their lives, declares The World Book Encyclopedia. Except among the rich, the idea of "changing clothes" was unheard of, for no one had more than one outfit.

Balancing nat'l budget would pay 72% of local taxes

Word relayed to the Cook County Farm Bureau from data originating with the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce is challenging in its content. It is that if our federal budget were merely brought into balance the savings would go a long way toward paying the local tax bill now due.

It is figured this way — a cut of $5,100,000,000 would cause federal expenditures and income to become equal or balance. Illinois share of this cut if made would equal $387,090,000. There are 8,449,000 persons in Illinois who each have a $45.81 stake in this. Sooner or later it has to be paid for or lost by default. This saving is 72.3% of the local taxes payable in Illinois in 1949. Amazing isn't it?

Cook County Farm Bureau wishes you to write your congressman to work for this. Senators are Paul H. Douglas and Scott W. Lucas. Representatives are W. L. Dawson, Barratt O'Hara, Neil J. Linehan, Thos. J. O'Brien, Adolph Sabath, Thos. S. Gordon, Sidney Yates, Richard Hoffman, Chester A. Chesney, and Edgar A. Jonas. A lot of names—but one sentence is enough.

HERE IS GOOD reason for doing this: a recent study released by the U. S. Chamber of breaking point in taxation and debt beyond which a country cannot go and survive. Apparently when taxes go beyond 25% of the national income serious trouble starts. We are unacquainted with run away inflation, national insolvency, and a recon- Commerce indicates there is a struction of our economy.

When such a time comes all who are seeking security will lose it with a gain for radicalism and more state government. Having reached the danger point, it is time for our citizenry to demand economy. If aid to Europe must be continued, there is plenty of opportunity for enough economy at home to balance the budget and at least stop this side of the danger point to our economy.

Mothers Day May 14

One could hardly avoid knowing that the second Sunday in May is the big day we set aside to honor Mother. Yet, one of the news services recently startled anxious husbands, sons and daughters by mistaking the day as May 7 in reporting President Truman's proclamation of the holiday. The correct day is Sunday, May 14. Mother would make the same ado about her flowers no matter the day of arrival, but it would be too much like forgetting her exact birthday.

Flowers never fail to please Momma, whether they're Pop's favorite red roses, daughter's gift of lovely miniature roses or a young son's exciting offering of a carnation corsage. And she will be certainly starry-eyed if you give her orchids or gardenias. The lavender orchids are reasonably priced this year, and if you're in the chips you might settle for a luscious hybrid orchid that runs to a little more money.

Three little sisters

From left to right we have Mary, 8, Lori, 5, and Rita, 9, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Nielsen, 126 Warren, Palatine.

Mary has honey blond hair, blue eyes and is a third grader at St. James school. She is full of fun, active and the peppy type.

Rita, the oldest of the three, is a studious young lady and a little on the shy side. She also attends St. James school and is in the fourth grade. Playing out of doors is a favorite activity of Rita's. Planting seeds in the garden is something she especially enjoys.

Lori, the "baby" of the family is a "combination of both Rita and Mary," said Mrs. Nielsen. She will be five years old May 13 and is anxiously looking forward to next fall when she will begin kindergarten and be a grownup school girl.

Sparkle Eyes

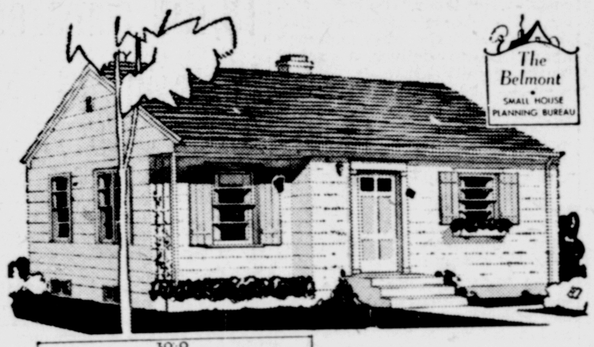
This smiling baby boy is Peter Barton McCully, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. McCully, 32 S. Rohlwing rd., Palatine.

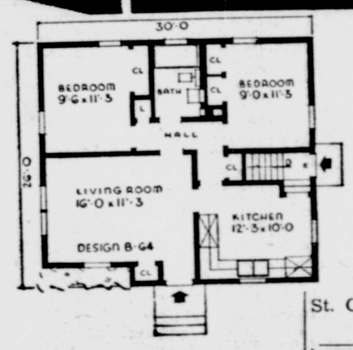
Peter was one year old April 2. He has dark brown eyes and blond hair.

"He is a very active baby, is starting to walk now and gets into everything," was Mrs. McCully's comment. "And he especially likes tin pans."

Peter has a big sister, Drusilla, who is 7 years old.

New ideas for that home





St. Cloud, Minn.

THE BELMONT, although small in area, provides four very comfortable rooms for a small family. All four rooms have cross ventilation and open into one small hall for free circulation between rooms.

There is plenty of wall space in every room of The Belmont for furniture. There is ample space for a breakfast table in the kitchen. Storage space is also plentifuly. The bedrooms have closet space. There is a coat closet in the front entrance, also general and linen closets in the hall, making a total of 6 closets.

Cabinets in The Belmont's modern kitchen are efficiently arranged with the sink under the window, the range next to the living room door and the refrigerator at the opposite end of the room.

Exterior walls of The Belmont are frame with siding or shingles. Concrete blocks can be substituted if desired. Asphalt shingles cover the roof.

Overall dimensions of The Belmont are 39 feet by 26 feet with a full basement. The area of The Belmont is 761 square feet with 15,372 cubic feet.

For further information about THE BELMONT, write the Small House Planning Bureau,

A snake charmer could play his musical instrument like an angel, but he would not get a rise out of his snake if he did not have rhythm, says The World Book Encyclopedia. Snakes have no external ears, and cannot hear sound waves in the air; they react only to the charmer's "swing and sway."

Barrington Music club in annual concert May 13

Members of the Barrington Music club are rehearsing for their fifth annual concert to be held Saturday, May 13, at 8:15 p. m. in the public school auditorium. Theodore A. Lams of Mt. Prospect, a member of the faculty at Northwestern University, is conductor.

The orchestra's program will include such well known selections as parts from Haydn's "Surprise" symphony, Brahms' Hungarian dances and "Juba Dance" by Dett.

On the chorus program are such diversified numbers as the Fred Waring-Harry Simeone arrangement of The Nutcracker Suite and the spiritual "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?"

Performers in the orchestra and chorus are residents of Barrington, Mt. Prospect, Palatine, Algonquin, Crystal Lake, Arlington Heights, Prairie View, Elgin, Lake Zurich, Fox River Grove, Cary and Wauconda.

Local members include: Willard J. Cooke of Palatine, first violin; Emilio Silvestre, Arlington Heights, viola; Mrs. R. H. Stolley of Palatine, flute, and Mrs. Anna Lockwood of Prairie View, cello.

National Guard launches six-week statewide drive for recruits

More than three hundred units of the Illinois National Guard in ninety communities throughout the State jumped off on 'R-Day' Monday on a six-week Pre-camp Recruiting Drive featuring a champion recruiter's contest, Major General Richard Smykal, The Commanding General, has announced.

Launched as a result of recent lifting of ceilings, goal of the State 'Steeplechase' campaign is to bring as many units as possible up to full authorized strength before 1950 encampments, General Smykal stated.

A major member of the national defense team, the National Guard has been assigned the vital M-Day mission of immediate action against an invading aggressor. At full strength, it will have approximately 684,000 officers and men in more than 6,000 Army and Air units. After only three years of postwar organization, rapid progress has brought the National Guard to a strenth approaching 400,000 with Illinois figure hovering at the 21,000 mark, and fourth high in National standing.
